NEW FEDERAL SCHOOL AID PLANS TOLD

$120-Million Bill For Education To Go To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new 120 - million - dollar-a-year federal program to improve the quality of public school education will be proposed to Congress by the Kennedy administration this year, informed sources said today

The basic aim would be to provide better trained teachers and the incentive to states to improve their instructional services.

The proposed new program was described as putting together in one package a number of ideas that have been advanced in recent months by Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff.

The emphasis will be on federal aid for higher education, including funds for scholarships and facilities and for medical and dental schools, he has said.

In Palm Beach President John F. Kennedy today:

1. Directed a fact - finding mission to leave for Santo Domingo Saturday to confer with officials of the Dominican Republic on possible use of U.S. aid for development projects. Kennedy has previously said the United States stands ready to help the Dominican Republic once an independent government with democratic tendencies was formed.

2. Accepted the resignation of Osro Cobb, U.S. attorney for eastern Arkansas, who was the government lawyer in Little Rock school desegregation proceedings against Gov. Orval E. Faubus and other Arkansas officials.

3. Chose Maj. Gen. Robert J. Fleming, chief of Army Engineers at Dallas, Tex., to succeed Maj. Gen. W. A. Carter as governor of the Panama Canal Zone.

4. Signed the formal appointment of Raymond F. Farrel as successor to Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing who has resigned as commissioner of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Wallace Hall Says He'll Run For State Schools Position

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, former superintendent of Marin county schools, and College of Marin vice president, announced today he will be a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction in the June 5 primary.

Hall's announcement — which was not unexpected — makes him the second avowed candidate for the $20,000-per-year post from which Dr. Roy E. Simpson is retiring at the end of this year. Already in the field was Cecil Hardesty, San Diego County schools superintendent. Several others are also expected to enter the race.

Hall is now associate state superintendent under Simpson. He resigned as Marin County superintendent in 1958 to accept the state job.

In announcing his candidacy, Hall said:

"If elected, I pledge my administration to work unceasingly in meeting the continuing and expanding needs of California's public schools for sufficient classroom facilities; for an adequate supply of well trained teachers both in subject matter and teaching techniques; for increased and more broadly based financial support, and for a well balanced curriculum which is designed to transmit unspent our rich American heritage and to prepare our students well for their heavy assignments as responsible citizens of the '70s."

WALLACE W. HALL
Wants boss's job

As indication of the "continuing and expanding needs," he recited that California school population has grown from one million in 1940 to 3.8 millior in 1960, and is expected to pass five million by the end of this decade —nearly as many as the entire state population in 1950. To meet this, he said, California must build 63,000 new classrooms, which will cost a total of more than three billion dollars.

Hall now heads the state's division of higher education, newly established this year. He joined the state superintendent's staff as chief of the division of public school administration.

He served as Marin County superintendent from 1951 to 1958. Previous to that, for four years he was executive secretary of the California Teachers Assn.'s Bay Section. Earlier he had been director of adult education and vice president of College of Marin. He had been a teaching assistant in political science and lecturer in education at University of California in Berkeley, and teacher and dean of men at Coalinga College. He holds bachelor's degrees from Ohio State University, a master of arts degree from College of the Pacific, and a doctor of philosophy from University of California.

His home is at 415 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere.

Resident Cries Strawberry Election Foul

Asserts Error Over Ehrer's Ballot Listing

The chairman of the recreation board, Clarence C. Bush, said it was nothing of the kind and the candidate's own mistake.

Forest Randolph of 309 East Strawberry Drive claimed his neighbor, incumbent candidate Marcel R. Ehrer of 305 East Strawberry Drive, was fouled by the board because he was not listed on the ballot as an incumbent trustee. The three other board members running for election are all designated as "trustees."

ALL PRINTED

Randolph said County Clerk George S. Jones informed him the ballots are all printed by the district and furnished to him.

"This is a throwback to Ehrer's appointment to the board by Supervisor Walter J. Blair," Randolph contended.

Bush said when Ehrer filled out the registration form he designated himself as "accountant." This was not acceptable, he said; so, since Ehrer did not request any other designation, it was left blank on the ballot.

THOUGHT IT FUNNY

Ehrer himself (pronounced error) said he thought the designation as trustee was automatic and that he considered it funny that other incumbents knew exactly what to do.

The election is being held because a new state law requires all such district board members to stand election, rather than being appointed by the county board of supervisors.

Eight candidates are running for the five seats on the board.

Witness Tells Of Raid On Pitbulls

Girl Says She Made Report

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

The prosecution's first witness against Joseph Sequeira of 200 Miller Creek Road, his son, George, 21, and nephew Clem Sequeira, 21, of Oakland, was Patricia Neumann, 21-year-old dark-eyed brunette, a neighbor.

It was Miss Neumann who, on the night of last Oct. 25, sparked a raid on the ranch by reporting to the sheriff that she heard dogs "howling and screaming."

The petite Miss Neumann, clad in a white waffle pique suit, was visibly moved when asked under cross-examination by the defense attorney, William O. Weissich, if she and George had not at one time "gone together."

"Were you in love with him?" Weissich asked.

"I still am," she almost whispered to the hushed courtroom.

"Are you sorry for what you have done to him?" Weissich asked.

"Of course I am," she said.

Miss Neumann, who lives at 136 Blackstone Drive, about three blocks from the Sequeira ranch, said under direct questioning by Asst. Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino that she drove to the edge of the ranch after

SEVEN WOMEN, FIVE MEN TO SIT IN JUDGMENT AT PITBULL TRIAL

A jury of seven women and five men was selected yesterday to decide whether the Marinwood pitbulls are fighting or hunting dogs.

Terra Linda Recreation Work Gets Off Ground

Terra Linda's $233,000 recreation development was under full steam today — and completion is anticipated by June 1. The Terra Linda Recreational board voted last night to post money in escrow for purchase of the community building and surrounding land, correcting an oversight in legal and financial proceedings in failure to complete site purchase before calling construction bids.

At last night's meeting, a check for $40,000 was drawn and put in escrow for property purchase. Contracts received before the oversight was discovered are being awarded, for work is expected to start on the big project when the title clearing is completed within 10 days.

Contracts were awarded for: Remodeling community center building and constructing pool dressing room, L. E. Weisenburg Jr., of San Rafael, at $36,568; pool, Orinda Pools, $56,500; landscaping the three sites and fencing pool area, Gravelle and McConnell, Palo Alto, $78,787.

Jack Brandon was elected district board chairman for 1962, succeeding Walter J. Fairweather, who became secretary. Other officers elected are James Schryer, first vice chairman; Gordon Young, second vice chairman and Shao-Yuen Yuan, treasurer.

Paper Says Knight Aide Quits Job

SAN JOSE (AP) — The San Jose News said today former Gov. Goodwin Knight's campaign manager has reportedly resigned and thinks Knight should get out of the California gubernatorial race "for his own health's sake."

In San Francisco Bob Alderman, Knight's campaign manager, refused to discuss the story.

Knight, who is opposing former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and two other candidates for the Republican nomination, was stricken with infectious hepatitis Thanksgiving. He is still confined to bed.

The News quoted Alderman: "Goodwin's illness is a situation none of us foresaw. It is changing the color of things.

"My own opinion is that for Goodwin's own health sake he would be well advised to bow out of this thing."

Knight has said he would resume television campaigning Feb. 1 and make his first public appearance Feb. 9.

Foreign Ministry officials declined immediate comment when told a photograph they had distributed—purported to show Nazi soldiers burning a Russian village at Heusinger's order— was actually one the Soviet government had previously issued of Japanese soldiers burning a Chinese village.

"We will investigate," they said.

At a news conference Dec. 12, the Soviet government demanded that the United States turn Gen. Heusinger over to the Soviet Union for trial on war criminal charges.

Heusinger, 64, was chief of operations of the German general staff until 1944, chief architect of the postwar West German army and now is chairman of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization permanent military committee in Washington.

The United States denounced the charges as a "crude propaganda maneuver."

Tshombe Rips 'Aggression'

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, (AP)—President Moise Tshombe today accused the United Nations of "odious aggression" in a speech at a meeting of the Provincial Assembly called to consider his agreement to end Katanga's secession from the Congo.

After the president's speech, which took strong exception to two of the agreement's eight parts, the Assembly president announced the matter would be referred to a special commission.

Fire Sweeps Research Lab

HANOVER, N.H. (UPI) — Fire swept the Army's new 2.2-million-dollar Arctic research center today. Firemen said damage was "extensive."

A barrel of hot tar exploded and touched off the fire in the three-story cold regions research and engineering laboratory one mile from Dartmouth College.

No one was reported injured. Estimate of the damage was not known immediately.

The brick and stone structure was virtually completed last summer though some construction still was under way.

BOSTON (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia was to be discharged today from Peter Brent Hospital after three operations during a six-week hospitalization.

King Saud, 59, underwent surgery on both eyes to correct cataracts and was operated on for an abdominal condition.

Socialite Beaten

PACIFIC PALISADES (AP) — An autopsy shows that pretty socialite Doris Bowman, found dead in her bathtub, was beaten to death.

The woman's body was found Tuesday afternoon, clad in capri pants and a blouse and submerged in a partially filled tub.

Detectives theorize that Mrs. Bowman, 32, may have surprised a burglar and that he beat her to death, then fled. Another theory is that the intruder may have been a narcotics addict in search of drugs a doctor might keep in his home.

Valid Marriage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A marriage is valid even if there are not witnesses present at the ceremony, Superior Court Judge Francis McCarty ruled yesterday in an annulment case.

Mrs. Ferne Hudspeth sought to have her marriage to William L. Hudspeth annuled. She said there were not witnesses to their marriage in Reno last June and that Nevada law requires two witnesses to a ceremony.

In rejecting the petition, Judge McCarty said that the only purpose of the requirement is to prove that the marriage occurred in case either party claims it didn't.

Algeria Violence

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Bitter violence between European and Moslem factions raged through Algeria on the fourth day of the New Year today, bringing a mounting toll of dead and injured.

At least 40 were killed and 75 wounded yesterday alone, according to official sources. It was the biggest single day toll of the year.

Chancellor Resigns

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Samuel B. Gould, chancellor of the University of California at Santa Barbara, resigned yesterday to accept an educational television post in New York City.

Gould said his resignation would be effective July 1. He was appointed the first chancellor of the Santa Barbara campus in July, 1959.

Negro Sit-In

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Negro and white spectators sat together in the gallery for the first time in years while Gov. Ross Barnett addressed the newly convened Mississippi Legislature.

Cold Wave Ending

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida's third cold wave—all within the last two weeks—began moving out today after dropping temperatures to record lows as far south as Miami and frosting the state's winter vegetable crop.

Forecasters predicted highs in the 70s in south Florida during the day and in the 60s in north Florida.

Albert's Saga —Bugtussle To Washington

Oklahoman Due To Be Elected Majority Leader

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a long road from Bugtussle, Okla., to Washington, D.C., and virtually certain election next week as the next House majority leader.

Carl Albert, son of a coal miner, has traveled it in 53 years. On the way this product of a one-room Oklahoma schoolhouse won a national oratorical contest, a Rhodes scholarship and a Bronze Star in the Pacific theater in World War II.

1946 ELECTION

Since his election to the House in 1946, Albert's rise in its circles of power and influence has been quiet and sure. The withdrawal yesterday of his only opponent for the office of majority leader, Rep. Richard Bolling (D-Mo.) makes Albert's elevation a foregone conclusion.

For the past nine years, Albert has served as Democratic whip in the House. His effective handling of this chore of rounding up colleagues for important votes put him in line to move up a notch to Rep. John W. McCormack's job as majority leader as McCormack moves up to speaker.

Albert is a self-effacing man. It is said that no one in the House-Democrat or Republican—dislikes him. Yet he is considered an able cog in the House leadership machine.

APPRECIATION

Although the White House kept hands off the majority leader contest, President John F. Kennedy made it known that he was greatly appreciative of Albert's efforts in getting the administration program through the House last year.

Albert was born in a little coal mining community outside McAlester, Okla., May 10, 1908. It was known in those days as Bugtussle. Today it's known as Flowery Mound.

REP. CARL ALBERT

One of Albert's most cherished pictures among dozens on his office walls is a group portrait of his first grade class, given him recently by his first grade teacher at a luncheon back home.

He went to high school in McAlester and was class valedictorian. He won a national oratorical contest and a trip to Europe. After a brilliant career at the University of Oklahoma, he won another oratorical contest and a trip to Hawaii.

In 1931 he won a Rhodes scholarshop to Oxford University in England, where he took two law degrees.

It is typical of Albert that the official biography issued by his office says of his military career, "he served in the Army in the Pacific theater in World War II."

What it doesn't say is that Albert enlisted as a buck private before Pearl Harbor, emerged as a lieutenant colonel and won a Bronze Star.

Albert is five feet four inches in his stocking feet. His southeast Oklahoma district is called "Little Dixie" and Albert has become famous there as "The little giant from Little Dixie."

He is a favorite with the neighborhood children when he goes home to McAlester. When they see his car parked they come in droves to see him. He and his wife, Mary, have two children, Mary Frances, 13, and David, 6.

Red Regime In Hungary Loosens Up

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) —Hungary's Communist regime is letting its shortcomings be lampooned sharply in public and joining in the laughs.

The main topic of conversation among Budapesters yesterday was a television revue, seen by an estimated two million people.

Western observers considered it possible a new soft breeze is blowing in the wake of the anti-Stalinism.

In a swipe at shoddy building methods, a plumber in one sketch said: "I read recently that the regime intends to build one million new apartments. Which means that I for one will never be out of repair work."

Reporter — What's your daily program?

Peasant — I read papers and magazines and watch television.

Peasant — Work? What's that? They tell us it's all done with machinery now.

Reporter — But what about the small private plot of land you're permitted?

Peasant: That's different. My family is out there now working itself to death.

TARZAN STILL SWINGS ALONG SCHOOL SHELVES

DOWNEY (AP)—'Twas a tempest in a teapot; Tarzan was never in jeopardy at Downey school libraries.

So says Supt. Bruce K. Moore, after an investigation. He found that no Tarzan books were ever removed from the shelves, unconfirmed rumors to the school board to the contrary notwithstanding.

Moore said two Zane Grey books were removed by a parent in one elementary school and were put back two days later.

Portugal Talks About Getting Out Of U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Portugal had a tough time getting into the United Nations. Now, after six years of membership, it is talking about getting out.

Repeated vetoes by the Soviet Union, starting in 1946, shoved aside the Lisbon government's applications for membership. Admission finally came in 1955—10 years after the organization was set up — as part of a package deal which brought in new members with divergent outlooks.

The six years of membership have been so stormy that few diplomats here were surprised when Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar let it be known yesterday that "Portugal will surely be among the first countries" to quit the U.N. He set no date, however.

No nation ever has resigned from the U.N.

A poor relationship between Portugal and a majority of the United Nations virtually ruled out any possibility of U.N. action to help the Salazar government when India seized Goa last month. There was so little sympathy among Asian and African countries that Western leaders felt they would be fighting a lost cause if they tried to take the invasion before the General Assembly.

The breaking point could come later this month when the assembly is expected to condemn Portugal for asserted failure to heed an earlier U.N. appeal for major reforms in Portuguese Angola.

In the current assembly session, Portugal was condemned for refusing to give information on nonself-governing territories, as required by the U.N. Charter.

Building License

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The contractors' state license board announced it plans to issue a general building contractor's license to Elizabeth W. Harper, Dragon Construction Co., 310 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, if no protests are received by Jan. 16.

Verdi's Operas Still Support Old Musicians

ROME (AP) — The Italian Parliament has extended the copyrights on Giuseppe Verdi's music for another year — and caused great rejoicing among a hundred old musicians in Milan.

They are the residents of the home for aged, indigent musicians founded in accordance with a bequest in the opera composer's will and built after his death in 1901. Verdi is buried on the grounds of the institution.

Each performance of a Verdi opera anywhere in the world means more money for the Giuseppe Verdi Rest House for Musicians — 4 per cent of the ticket sales. Italy's opera houses alone contributed $36,285.80 in 1961.

Italian law set the Verdi copyrights to expire in 1951, 50 years after his death. A 10-year extension carried the copyrights through last year. A few days ago Parliament approved a proposal by Premier Amintore Fanfani extending the rights until the end of 1962. The extension becomes official with publication in the government's official gazette after the holiday recess ends.

When the copyrights finally expire, the works will enter the public domain

PG&E Report Forecasts Home Building Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A three and one-half per cent population gain and a 5 per cent increase in home construction were forecast today for its 47-county Northern California area by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The utility firm's 1962 outlook report said the population increase of 272,000 in the year would bring the region's total to more than eight million.

It said two-thirds of the gain will be centered in six metropolitan areas of the Bay Area and Central Valley regions.

R. W. Joyce, vice president for commercial operations, said one of the region's greatest assets in attracting new population and industry is its foremost rank as a center of education.

The construction of new classrooms and entire college campuses also is one of the major influences in the prevailing high level of construction, the market outlook report said.

"Massive school enrollment additionally indicates the extent of the consumer market represented by students and their families as well as the number of trained young people who will be available to fill technical jobs," the outlook report said.

"Forty-one per cent of this year's California state budget is for public education, the largest single area of state expenditure.

"In addition," the study reports, "approximately half of all local property taxes collected in the company's 47-county service area is for schools. These figures do not include the voluntary expenditures for privately supported or endowed schools."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Ukiah Triplets

UKIAH (AP) — The first set of triplets on record in this Mendocino County community were born yesterday at Ukiah General Hospital.

Mrs. William McCain gave birth to two boys and a girl. The hospital reported mother and infants were in good condition.

Koala Found

Caddy In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Francoise Autiero, the attractive blonde who caddied for Joseph P. Kennedy, the president's father, wants to teach American girls how to caddy.

Francoise, 23, arrived here yesterday with her husband, Lucien, a fish market operator. She plans to spend a week in New York and then go to Florida, where she will teach girl caddy candidates at the new Doral Country Club in Miami.

Saud Out Of Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia was to be discharged today from Peter Brent Hospital after three operations during a six-week hospitalization.

King Saud, 59, underwent surgery on both eyes to correct cataracts and was operated on for an abdominal condition.

Socialite Beaten

PACIFIC PALISADES (AP) — An autopsy shows that pretty socialite Doris Bowman, found dead in her bathtub, was beaten to death.

The woman's body was found Tuesday afternoon, clad in capri pants and a blouse and submerged in a partially filled tub.

Detectives theorize that Mrs. Bowman, 32, may have surprised a burglar and that he beat her to death, then fled. Another theory is that the intruder may have been a narcotics addict in search of drugs a doctor might keep in his home.

Valid Marriage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A marriage is valid even if there are not witnesses present at the ceremony, Superior Court Judge Francis McCarty ruled yesterday in an annulment case.

Mrs. Ferne Hudspeth sought to have her marriage to William L. Hudspeth annuled. She said there were not witnesses to their marriage in Reno last June and that Nevada law requires two witnesses to a ceremony.

Sukarno Is Pressing For New Guinea Attack

MAKASSAR, Indonesa (UPI)—President Sukarno told a million rain-soaked residents of this southern Celebes capital tonight their harbor, airfield and fighting spirit made it the logical base for launching an attack to "liberate" West Irian (Dutch New Guinea).

Sukarno arrived here today on the first stop of a four-day tour of the South Celebes Islands to whip up mass enthusiasm for the forthcoming move against the disputed territory. The South Celebes are the major Indonesian islands nearest New Guinea.

Sukarno launched the current liberation drive with a speech Dec. 19 in which he appealed to the entire nation to mobilize for the fight. He received one answer today. Lt. Col. Busjiri, commander of Maluku — just opposite the New Guinea coast — said he had 10,000 veterans under arms.

Busjiri, quoted by the Indonesian News Agency Antara, said rearming of the veterans was the initial step before the forward march into West Irian. But, he said, the men were "impatient to drive the Dutch out of the territory" at once.

calling the sheriff and stood on the hood of her car so as to see over the fence.

She told of hearing George call "cops!" when the officers drove up, and said that Clem ran to the kennels with a pitbull dog while George went into the house.

She then met one of the officers in front of the house and asked if they had found anything. When he replied they had not, she said she told him to look in the tack room.

It was there, Deputy Sheriff Theodore B. Hughes said under examination later, that he and other officers, including Marin Humane Society officials, discovered two injured dogs, one of which died the following day.

Taking the stand today for the prosecution was Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin Humane Society, who told the court he had spent 25 years in animal work.

Morse, one of the raiding party on the night of Oct. 25, said bloodstains were found on the floor of a double garage, a dead dog was discovered chained to a dog house, and two dogs, one injured and in a state of shock, were found cowering in the tack room.

The raid on the ranch took place, Morse said, after he and other officers had investigated an area of abandoned barns across the street from the ranch and had found nothing. There, he said, they had encountered the two Sequeira boys, armed with a crowbar and a length of pipe, who told them they thought someone was stealing their lumber.

They returned to the ranch, receiving permission from the elder Sequeira to investigate, after Deputy Hughes radioed them to meet him at a service station nearby. Hughes, Morse said, was talking with Miss Neumann.

Four dogs, including the dead one found chained, were taken that night in the Humane Society ambulance, Morse said.

The trial, being heard by Judge Joseph G. Wilson, was expected to last until early next week. Weissich has indicated that he will bring the star performers — the pitbulls —into the courtroom before the trial ends.

Two Attempts On Own Life Fail

Two attempts at taking his own life yesterday were both unsuccessful for T/Sgt. Wesley David Hempel of the 1850th Flight Checking Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, Novato police reported.

Hempel, who lives at 657 Norman Drive, Novato, was found lying in the bathroom of his home with his left wrist cut, about 4:40 p.m. by his wife when she returned home from work, police said.

He was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital and later transfered to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco where his condition was reported as satisfactory today.

Earlier in the day, about 1:30 a.m. Hempel was found sitting in his car with the motor running and a hose from the exhaust pipe to the interior of the car, police said. His wife found him then but did not report it to police.

Baby-Death Model Back In Hospital

Antoinette (Toni) Wahlen, 22-year-old San Francisco model who is accused of murdering her newborn son in Sausalito last month, was back in Marin General Hospital today for further medical treatment.

She was transferred from county jail to the hospital last night on the advice of her physician.

Her attorney, William O. Weissich, yesterday appealed to Judge Harold J. Haley to set bail for her. This morning, Judge Haley denied bail on grounds that this is a capital offense, even though Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety will not seek the death penalty.

However, the judge left the door open for Miss Wahlen to ask for bail again in Marin Superior Court when she appears there to answer the murder charge. Whether she will appear in superior court next Monday or the week after had not been decided as of today.

Miss Wahlen is accused of slaying her baby at the Sausalito apartment of disc jockey Bob Colvig on the night of Dec. 15 and leaving the baby in a trash can outside. The baby, with 17 stab wounds, was found by garbage collectors Dec. 22.

Motel Manager Is Jailed For Scuffle in Bar

San Rafael motel manager Gordon Edward Roberts, 42, of 865 Francisco Boulevard, was booked at county jail last night on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness after his fist allegedly smashed a glass partition in San Rafael Joe's Restaurant.

Police said they were called to the restaurant shortly before 11 p.m. to find Roberts in the custody of patrons and restaurant owner Hector Rubini.

Patrons told police Roberts arrived at the bar after 10 p.m. and there met Frank Montero of 54 El Portal Drive, San Rafael. A short time after borrowing money from Montero, Roberts reportedly struck Montero in the mouth. As the patrons attempted to restrain Roberts, he swung and missed hitting the glass partition.

Roberts, who is manager of the San Rafael Inn, was released on $131.25 bail and ordered to appear in Municipal Court tomorrow.

Labor Situation Good In County

An unusually good employment situation throughout Marin County was reported last night at a meeting of the Marin County Labor Council.

Representatives of all occupations including the building trades, usually slow at this time of the year, reported few members out of work.

The council voted to send a letter to the Marin County Board of Supervisors urging prompt action to keep Marin County within the rapid transit district if possible.

OBITUARIES

Last Rites Held For R. B. Porter

Funeral services for Robert Bruce Porter, owner of the Tiburon Turntable on the Belvedere Boardwalk, were held Sunday at the Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco. Burial was in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

Porter died Saturday of pneumonia at his home at 3 Alta Way, Corte Madera, where he had resided for 15 years. He was 43.

Porter was a grandson of psychologist and author William James and grandnephew of novelist Henry James. He was born in San Francisco.

He located his music shop in the Tiburon-Belvedere area nine years ago, first over the Tiburon waterfront and later on the Boardwalk.

Porter had done graduate work in psychology at University of California at Berkeley until a recent illness. He did psychological testing in the army in World War II at Bowman Field in Kentucky.

Porter is survived by his wife, Paula, a son, Arnold William James Porter; two daughters, Francesca and Helen, and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Short of Tiburon.

MARGEY KUNNEY

Mrs. Kunney, 44, was born in Portland, Ore., and had lived in Mill Valley three years, residing at 31 Manzanita Place. She was the wife of Ernest R. Kunney, an employee of S and K Sales Co. of San Francisco.

She was a member of the San Francisco Assn. of Mental Health and the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club.

The family requests that tributes be made in contributions to United Nations Children's Fund, United Nations, New York 17.

DENNISON CLIFT

News accounts of the death last month of Dennison Haley Clift, author, playwright and director, who died at the age of 76 at his Beverly Hills home, recall his humble beginning in San Rafael. He was reared in the Presbyterian Orphanage in San Rafael. The orphanage, which later became Sunny Hills in San Anselmo, was at the corner of Fourth and E streets in San Rafael.

Former classmates remember him as a brilliant student. He went to San Rafael public schools and was a graduate of Stanford University. He directed the films "Honor Among Man," "A Bill of Divorcement," "The Mystery of the Mary Celeste" and "Ports of Call."

Among the Broadway plays he wrote were "The Woman Disputed" and "Scotland Yard."

Clift is survived by his widow, Vivian, a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Peck of Palo Alto; a brother, Henry Clift of San Francisco and two grandchildren. Funeral services were conducted in Forest Lawn.

A. A. CAILLEAUD

The body of August Adolph Cailleaud, 74, father of Mrs. Georgette Vilas of Woodacre, was found yesterday in Grizzly Bay, south of Fairfield.

Cailleaud was a San Francisco attorney and realty broker.

Solano County sheriff's deputies said the attorney apparently suffered a heart attack while hunting and fell off a wharf. He went to the Montezuma Realty Duck Club on Tuesday.

He was born in San Francisco and was a member of a pioneer French family. He was founder of the California Meat Co.

Survivors include his wife, Honorine of San Francisco; three daughters, Mrs. Vilas, Mrs. Elroy Joyce of San Francisco and Mrs. Louise Kilkenny of Mountain View, and a son, Jack, of San Francisco.

Funeral services are to be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Halsted and Co. mortuary, San Francisco.

Two attempts at taking his own life yesterday were both unsuccessful for T/Sgt. Wesley David Hempel of the 1850th Flight Checking Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, Novato police reported.

Hempel, who lives at 657 Norman Drive, Novato, was found lying in the bathroom of his home with his left wrist cut, about 4:40 p.m. by his wife when she returned home from work, police said.

He was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital and later transfered to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco where his condition was reported as satisfactory today.

Earlier in the day, about 1:30 a.m. Hempel was found sitting in his car with the motor running and a hose from the exhaust pipe to the interior of the car, police said. His wife found him then but did not report it to police.

Baby-Death Model Back In Hospital

Antoinette (Toni) Wahlen, 22-year-old San Francisco model who is accused of murdering her newborn son in Sausalito last month, was back in Marin General Hospital today for further medical treatment.

She was transferred from county jail to the hospital last night on the advice of her physician.

Her attorney, William O. Weissich, yesterday appealed to Judge Harold J. Haley to set bail for her. This morning, Judge Haley denied bail on grounds that this is a capital offense, even though Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety will not seek the death penalty.

However, the judge left the door open for Miss Wahlen to ask for bail again in Marin Superior Court when she appears there to answer the murder charge. Whether she will appear in superior court next Monday or the week after had not been decided as of today.

Miss Wahlen is accused of slaying her baby at the Sausalito apartment of disc jockey Bob Colvig on the night of Dec. 15 and leaving the baby in a trash can outside. The baby, with 17 stab wounds, was found by garbage collectors Dec. 22.

Motel Manager Is Jailed For Scuffle in Bar

San Rafael motel manager Gordon Edward Roberts, 42, of 865 Francisco Boulevard, was booked at county jail last night on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness after his fist allegedly smashed a glass partition in San Rafael Joe's Restaurant.

Police said they were called to the restaurant shortly before 11 p.m. to find Roberts in the custody of patrons and restaurant owner Hector Rubini.

Patrons told police Roberts arrived at the bar after 10 p.m. and there met Frank Montero of 54 El Portal Drive, San Rafael. A short time after borrowing money from Montero, Roberts reportedly struck Montero in the mouth. As the patrons attempted to restrain Roberts, he swung and missed hitting the glass partition.

Roberts, who is manager of the San Rafael Inn, was released on $131.25 bail and ordered to appear in Municipal Court tomorrow.

Labor Situation Good In County

An unusually good employment situation throughout Marin County was reported last night at a meeting of the Marin County Labor Council.

Representatives of all occupations including the building trades, usually slow at this time of the year, reported few members out of work.

The council voted to send a letter to the Marin County Board of Supervisors urging prompt action to keep Marin County within the rapid transit district if possible.

OBITUARIES

Last Rites Held For R. B. Porter

Funeral services for Robert Bruce Porter, owner of the Tiburon Turntable on the Belvedere Boardwalk, were held Sunday at the Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco. Burial was in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

Porter died Saturday of pneumonia at his home at 3 Alta Way, Corte Madera, where he had resided for 15 years. He was 43.

Porter was a grandson of psychologist and author William James and grandnephew of novelist Henry James. He was born in San Francisco.

He located his music shop in the Tiburon-Belvedere area nine years ago, first over the Tiburon waterfront and later on the Boardwalk.

Porter had done graduate work in psychology at University of California at Berkeley until a recent illness. He did psychological testing in the army in World War II at Bowman Field in Kentucky.

Porter is survived by his wife, Paula, a son, Arnold William James Porter; two daughters, Francesca and Helen, and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Short of Tiburon.

MARGEY KUNNEY

Mrs. Kunney, 44, was born in Portland, Ore., and had lived in Mill Valley three years, residing at 31 Manzanita Place. She was the wife of Ernest R. Kunney, an employee of S and K Sales Co. of San Francisco.

She was a member of the San Francisco Assn. of Mental Health and the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club.

Surviving are her husband and a brother, Frank Rowe of Pleasant Hill, Contra Costa County.

The family requests that tributes be made in contributions to United Nations Children's Fund, United Nations, New York 17.

Family funeral services will be held Friday at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

DENNISON CLIFT

News accounts of the death last month of Dennison Haley Clift, author, playwright and director, who died at the age of 76 at his Beverly Hills home, recall his humble beginning in San Rafael. He was reared in the Presbyterian Orphanage in San Rafael. The orphanage, which later became Sunny Hills in San Anselmo, was at the corner of Fourth and E streets in San Rafael.

Former classmates remember him as a brilliant student. He went to San Rafael public schools and was a graduate of Stanford University. He directed the films "Honor Among Man," "A Bill of Divorcement," "The Mystery of the Mary Celeste" and "Ports of Call."

Among the Broadway plays he wrote were "The Woman Disputed" and "Scotland Yard."

Clift is survived by his widow, Vivian, a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Peck of Palo Alto; a brother, Henry Clift of San Francisco and two grandchildren. Funeral services were conducted in Forest Lawn.

A. A. CAILLEAUD

The body of August Adolph Cailleaud, 74, father of Mrs. Georgette Vilas of Woodacre, was found yesterday in Grizzly Bay, south of Fairfield.

Cailleaud was a San Francisco attorney and realty broker.

Solano County sheriff's deputies said the attorney apparently suffered a heart attack while hunting and fell off a wharf. He went to the Montezuma Realty Duck Club on Tuesday.

He was born in San Francisco and was a member of a pioneer French family. He was founder of the California Meat Co.

Survivors include his wife, Honorine of San Francisco; three daughters, Mrs. Vilas, Mrs. Elroy Joyce of San Francisco and Mrs. Louise Kilkenny of Mountain View, and a son, Jack, of San Francisco.

Funeral services are to be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Halsted and Co. mortuary, San Francisco.

TEN IN ILLINOIS NAMED YEAR'S CATHOLIC FAMILY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edmund O'Dowd of Wilmette, Ill., and their eight children, have been named the "Catholic Family of the Year."

Their selection was announced yesterday by the family life bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

O'Dowd, who works for a Chicago lumber firm, was a submarine commander in the Navy in World War II.

He and his wife have been leaders in the Catholic family movement and co-authored a course in sex education for Catholic youth.

Request For No Annex Gets Developer Nowhere

Mill Valley developer Harry H. Johnson requested last night that the Mill Valley city council drop his 35.66 acres from the proposed Capps-Cascade annexation, but got nowhere with his request.

The council voted 4-0, (Councilman Michael Wornum absent,) to set for Feb. 21 a public hearing on its intention to annex the approximately 100-acre area in Cascade Canyon.

Johnson, who owns the former Henry D. and Samuel Meyer property, said he wanted his property left in the county but gave no other reason for not desiring annexation. He complained that, if he was not left out, he would have to hire attorneys, who "are expensive," he said, to fight the entire annexation program. Following the meeting he said he would continue his fight.

Mayor Robert D. Huber said: "I have never pushed anyone into annexation. If he (Johnson) doesn't see the light, why force a man to do it?"

Councilman George D. Monardo chided Johnson, saying, "the other night you spoke about an iron curtain and that we should all be one."

Johnson replied: "You're talking about Leninism. I'm talking about Johnsonism."

The city council also:

1. Put over to next meeting a proposal that the city acquire a one-half ton pickup truck for possible use by Supt. of Public Works Ross Benson and a "compact" car to be used by Building Inspector Preston L. Canfield or his assistant.

2. Adopted a resolution approving construction drawings and specifications submitted by City Engineer Stanley M. Bala for the Miller Avenue improvement near Tamalpais High School.

3. Heard a report from City Manager A. E. Almcrants that a letter is being sent to the state department of public works asking that action be taken to further widen the proposed curve in Shoreline Highway between Richardson Bay Bridge and Tamalpais Junction.

4. Approved warrants totaling $11,197.

Bus For Blind Operates Again

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A little bus that makes a 68-mile daily round trip to carry eight blind youngsters to and from school is rolling again.

A few weeks ago the bus operation was in trouble. The parents needed $1,000 to repair the creaking vehicle and meet other expenses for the remainder of the year.

Then a Charleston auto dealer came to the rescue, overhauling the bus without charge. A rent-a-car firm loaned a station wagon for use while the bus was being repaired. Then a bake sale held by the parents netted $75 and several donations were received.

As a result the bus again is running from Nitro, west of Charleston, to the Glenwood School here, where special classes are held for the blind.

Mill Valley Woman Hurt— Caught In Middle Of Crash

A Mill Valley woman driver was injured when caught in the middle of a crash of three moving cars on Highway 101 yesterday.

Dorle Mann, 62, of 58 Scott Street, was driving south just north of Marin City at 8:15 a. m. when a pickup truck driven by a 17-year-old Tamalpais High School student, Marshall Arthur Boates of 445 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, hit her car from behind and slammed it into a taxi ahead.

Joseph Wakefield of 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, driver of the taxi, was not hurt, but Miss Mann was admitted to Marin General Hospital where her condition today was satisfactory. She suffered a wrenched back and left shoulder.

Mill Valley Woman Hurt— Caught In Middle Of Crash

A Mill Valley woman driver was injured when caught in the middle of a crash of three moving cars on Highway 101 yesterday.

Dorle Mann, 62, of 58 Scott Street, was driving south just north of Marin City at 8:15 a.m. when a pickup truck driven by a 17-year-old Tamalpais High School student, Marshall Arthur Boates of 445 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, hit her car from behind and slammed it into a taxi ahead.

Joseph Wakefield of 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, driver of the taxi, was not hurt, but Miss Mann was admitted to Marin General Hospital where her condition today was satisfactory. She suffered a wrenched back and left shoulder.

NEW SAFEWAY (SQUISH!) TO RISE

Marin City Development Hearing Set

Public hearing will be held by the Marin County Planning Commission Monday on a tentative map of the 90-acre Marin City Redevelopment Unit No. 4, west of Highway 101 and north of the Marin City Public Housing Project.

The area is east of the first three units and as a planned community district is to be divided into 78 lots and 14 parcels, all lots containing no less than 9,000 square feet and none with less than 90-feet average width.

All lots are to be used for single-family dwellings while the parcels will be for apartments, church sites, parks, community center, shopping center and parking area. The houses are expected to be offered for sale to private owners.

Another tentative map hearing will be on 15-acre Vineyard Terrace near Novato, north of Vineyard Road, to be developed by Stone Castle Development Co., Inc.

Forty-seven lots of a minimum 10,000 square foot size are contemplated with three new streets of county standard. All lots are to be for single-family dwellings.

Tiburon Development Corp. has asked permission for reduced front and side setbacks of 59 lots on Hilary Geldert, and Howard Drives, Rowley Circle, and Harn Court, in Del Mar Estates No. 2.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. will have hearing on application for an addition to its communication equipment building at Inverness on Vision Road.

Two Arrested For Extortion Try In Californians' Release From Reds

SANTA ANA (AP) — The FBI arrested two Santa Ana men last night on charges of trying to extort $25,000 in return for the release of two American students imprisoned in East Germany.

Intended victim of the plot, the FBI said, was Edgar E. Pankey, a rancher at nearby Tustin.

Pankey's son, Victor S. Pankey, and his nephew, Gilbert Ferrey, both 20, were arrested by East German police last September. They were shortly afterward sentenced to two years in prison on charges they had tried to smuggle a girl student into West Germany in the luggage compartment of their car.

Charged with federal extortion charges were Dennis Shane Hatrick, 23, and Albert Bruce Dyer, 23. Both are unemployed. They are brothers-in-law.

William G. Simon, special agent in charge of the Los Angeles FBI office, said Pankey received a letter on Sept. 19, 1961, a few days after the two youths were seized by the Communists.

The letter instructed the elder Pankey to deliver $25,000 if he wished to see his son again soon. Simon said the demand was on the basis that a release of the boys would be effected through alleged contacts in West Germany and in East Germany. Simon did not say whether any such contacts had been discovered.

Hatrick had a .22 caliber revolver on him when arrested but offered no resistance, Simon said.

Victor Pankey is a mathematics major at Pomona College who attended summer school at the University of Oslo in Norway, while Ferrey was in school in Switzerland. Their arrest came in East Berlin after the East Germans sealed the border. The youths were sentenced along with four other persons accused of aiding East Berlin residents to reach West Berlin.

Car Bombers Reprimanded

Three teen-aged boys who blew up a car in Tamalpais Valley with a home-made bomb last week were reprimanded yesterday and turned over to their parents for discipline.

Sheriff's Juvenile Officer Harvey Teague warned the boys that strict penalty will be imposed if they get into trouble again. The boys, one 17 and the other two 14 years old, have clean past records, said Teague.

Inspector Teague said the boys may still have to make restitution for the 1953 coupe which the bomb destroyed. Teague has not yet talked with the car owner, Milton Powell of 610 Eastwood Way, Tamalpais Valley.

The boys admitted they used a piece of pipe and gunpowder to blow up the car on Dec. 28. No one was hurt.

Higher Savings Interests May Raise Rates On Loans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After only two business days into the new year, there is speculation that higher bank interest on savings might result in raising interest on bank loans.

California branch bank systems increased their general savings interest rate Tuesday to 3½ per cent from the previous 3 per cent.

Yesterday, Wells Fargo Bank American Trust Co. announced it will pay 4 per cent interest on $100 savings certificates held for a year. Bank of America also offered 4 per cent on 12-month money in special accounts of $500 or multiples of $500.

Some bank officials speculated that home loans and the like could get increased interest rates to offset the higher savings rates.

Others said demands for bank loans are great enough to support higher interest rates.

Observers said the raising of interest rates could bring great pressure to bear on bank earnings. Unofficial Bank of America estimates put the additional cost to the bank at about 35 million dollars a year. A Wells Fargo spokesman said the new rates would cost his company six million dollars a year.

Khrushchev, Franco Named Men Of Year

MADRID (AP) — The Spanish news magazine "SP" yesterday named Generalissimo Francisco Franco and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev the men of the year for 1961.

The magazine said its readers had selected Franco Spain's man of the year for his "moral merits and his historic constructive works" and had chosen Khrushshev foreign man of the year "as a reflection of his sad and destructive actions."

STUDENT SWITCH

Sweden Or Marin —It's All Education

Mrs. Pere Rundberg, 601 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley, and the Thurfjells of Ostrsund, Sweden, have many nice things in common.

For one thing, each family has a son and daughter in high school.

But the two boys are juniors in Terra Linda high. And the girls are attending the National High School in Sweden.

"It is working out splendidly," avers Mrs. Rundberg. "On both sides of the world, the youngsters have fine grades, and are keenly interested."

Last summer, Mrs. Rundberg visited her old friends, the Thurfjells in Ostrsund. She was accompanied by her son Thomas, a 1961 San Rafael high school graduate, who is now majoring in ceramics at a state art school in Sweden. With her also went her daughter Marie. Son Peter stayed in Marin.

In the interests of culture, an inter-family student exchange was arranged.

Marie remained to attend a Swedish high school for a year, attending with the Thurfjell's daughter.

To Marin County came Hendrik Thurfjell. He joined Peter Rundberg as a junior in Terra Linda high. And, according to Mrs. Rundberg, Hendrik is taking the New World in stride.

"There was no language difficulty, as English is taught in Sweden's schools," she explained. "Textbooks and expressions were basically from England. So the English, with Swedish accent and British expressions were not difficult—and now, Americanisms have taken over."

Like all Scandinavian youths, Hendrik is deeply interested in sailing vessels. They hope to find an outlet through some Marin yachtsman. He has hopes of qualifying as an amateur glider or small plane pilot before the end of the school term.

Everything in Marin and in American tradition is of deep interest to Hendrik. Peter is learning through him of the land of his ancestors. Everybody's happy!

Curriculum Study Committee To Report On Its Progress

The San Rafael Curriculum Study Committee will present a review of its past work and plans for the immediate future to the board of education next Tuesday night.

The resume, which was requested by the board after the committee asked funds for speakers and operating expenses, will be prepared by committee chairman H. David Sokoloff and secretary Ralph K. Hansen.

Pending approval of the board, speakers are scheduled to talk on phonics, reading and social studies.

Scheduled to speak on phonics in the San Rafael High School Little Theater Jan. 10 at 7:30 p.m. are Dr. Grace Brown, remedial reading consultant at City College of San Francisco, and Henrietta Koch of Berkeley, a former reading teacher.

Speaking on reading at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 15 at the district office at 215 Mission Avenue will be Dr. David Russell, professor of education at University of California and author of a series of reading textbooks now in use as state text.

The subject of social studies as taught in San Rafael schools will be reviewed at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 7 in the district offices by Jack Curtin of San Rafael High School and Albert Gautrand of Terra Linda High School. Both are social studies department chairmen.

The committee set the following order in which subjects will be taken up following social studies: English, foreign languages, mathematics, science, electives, and a study of the junior high school program.

An early plan of the committee to send 1,500 questionnaires to district parents asking suggestions on curriculum and related subjects was reduced in scope when the committee agreed to cut the number to 400. A more detailed questionnaire will be mailed later in the year.

Joining the committee for his first meeting last night was Frank M. Parker, 37-year-old Standard Oil Co. chemical engineer who replaced Rev. Llewellin White, who resigned last month.

Parker, father of three children and president of the Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Assn., resides at 8 Cushing Avenue in Northbridge with his wife, Nancy, who is president of the Gallinas P-TA. Parker will also replace White on the public pulse subcommittee.

AFRICAN GETS CANING FOR LEGS REMARK

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A Johannesburg magistrate today sentenced a 20-year-old African to be caned because he told a white woman, "My, lady but you've got nice legs."

"I felt very embassassed," the woman, Faith Jennifer Seaton, told the court. "It's bad enough when my own people say it."

COUNCIL APPROVES MAGNOLIA ZONING

In a 4-to-0 vote, the city councilmen voted for apartment zoning but indicated the Escalle winery property could go back to commercial if acceptable development plans were presented. Councilman Neil R. Brixon was absent.

Final action on the ordinance to rezone will be taken at the February meeting.

The city planning commission recommended the apartment zoning for the strip. The planners pointed out that the city now has 138 acres of land zoned for commercial, and said this is more than enough for the city.

Two property owners opposed the rezoning. Tiscornia declared the Escalle winery property always has been commercial. "Why should the oldest property be picked on and zoned to apartments?" he asked.

Tiburon attorney Borah Hansen spoke for Carl Davis, who owns property at 863 Magnolia. "Just because the city granted too much commercial area, it is unfair to pick on previously zoned commercial and change it back to multiple residential," said Hansen. "We feel this rezoning is prejudicial."

Hansen said his client, Davis, has state permission to use the property as a rest home, and rezoning might jeopardize the rest home.

All four councilmen said they saw some merit to the request for commercial for the Escalle property, but did not wish to hold up rezoning for the entire strip.

Water Pollution Unit Gets New Chairman

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Paul Beerman of San Diego is the new chairman of the State Water Pollution Control Board, replacing A. M. Rawn of Los Angeles.

The board, meeting yesterday, also named DeWitt Nelson, state conservation director, as vice chairman to take the place of William Warne, administrator of the Resources Agency.

Curriculum Study Committee To Report On Its Progress

The San Rafael Curriculum Study Committee will present a review of its past work and plans for the immediate future to the board of education next Tuesday night.

The resume, which was requested by the board after the committee asked funds for speakers and operating expenses, will be prepared by committee chairman H. David Sokoloff and secretary Ralph K. Hansen.

Pending approval of the board, speakers are scheduled to talk on phonics, reading and social studies.

Scheduled to speak on phonics in the San Rafael High School Little Theater Jan. 10 at 7:30 p.m. are Dr. Grace Brown, remedial reading consultant at City College of San Francisco, and Henrietta Koch of Berkeley, a former reading teacher.

Speaking on reading at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 15 at the district office at 215 Mission Avenue will be Dr. David Russell, professor of education at University of California and author of a series of reading textbooks now in use as state text.

The subject of social studies as taught in San Rafael schools will be reviewed at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 7 in the district offices by Jack Curtin of San Rafael High School and Albert Gautrand of Terra Linda High School. Both are social studies department chairmen.

The committee set the following order in which subjects will be taken up following social studies: English, foreign languages, mathematics, science, electives, and a study of the junior high school program.

An early plan of the committee to send 1,500 questionnaires to district parents asking suggestions on curriculum and related subjects was reduced in scope when the committee agreed to cut the number to 400. A more detailed questionnaire will be mailed later in the year.

Joining the committee for his first meeting last night was Frank M. Parker, 37-year-old Standard Oil Co. chemical engineer who replaced Rev. Llewellin White, who resigned last month.

Parker, father of three children and president of the Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Assn., resides at 8 Cushing Avenue in Northbridge with his wife, Nancy, who is president of the Gallinas P-TA. Parker will also replace White on the public pulse subcommittee.

AFRICAN GETS CANING FOR LEGS REMARK

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A Johannesburg magistrate today sentenced a 20-year-old African to be caned because he told a white woman, "My, lady but you've got nice legs."

"I felt very embassassed," the woman, Faith Jennifer Seaton, told the court. "It's bad enough when my own people say it."

COUNCIL APPROVES MAGNOLIA ZONING

In a 4-to-0 vote, the city councilmen voted for apartment zoning but indicated the Escalle winery property could go back to commercial if acceptable development plans were presented. Councilman Neil R. Brixon was absent.

Final action on the ordinance to rezone will be taken at the February meeting.

The city planning commission recommended the apartment zoning for the strip. The planners pointed out that the city now has 138 acres of land zoned for commercial, and said this is more than enough for the city.

Two property owners opposed the rezoning. Tiscornia declared the Escalle winery property always has been commercial. "Why should the oldest property be picked on and zoned to apartments?" he asked.

Tiburon attorney Borah Hansen spoke for Carl Davis, who owns property at 863 Magnolia. "Just because the city granted too much commercial area, it is unfair to pick on previously zoned commercial and change it back to multiple residential," said Hansen. "We feel this rezoning is prejudicial."

Hansen said his client, Davis, has state permission to use the property as a rest home, and rezoning might jeopardize the rest home.

All four councilmen said they saw some merit to the request for commercial for the Escalle property, but did not wish to hold up rezoning for the entire strip.

Water Pollution Unit Gets New Chairman

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Paul Beerman of San Diego is the new chairman of the State Water Pollution Control Board, replacing A. M. Rawn of Los Angeles.

The board, meeting yesterday, also named DeWitt Nelson, state conservation director, as vice chairman to take the place of William Warne, administrator of the Resources Agency.

Money Clip Lost

Lee Samuel Bart Jr. of 736 Appleberry Drive, Marinwood, reported to San Rafael police Tuesday night the loss of a solid gold money clip on Fourth Street between A and C streets. Bart said the clip had the initials L.S.B. upon it and was valued at $35.

COUNTY'S TAXES GET AN AIRING

'Sounding Board' Panel Clashes On Distribution

Whether Marin taxes are fairly distributed received airing on the radio KTIM "Sounding Board" today, with divergent viewpoint as to factors and causes—even as to the equity of distribution.

Speakers were Philip J. Rowland, president, Marin County Taxpayers Assn.; County Administrator Alan Bruce; Carroll Snyker, manager, Marin Industrial Development Foundation, and George L. S. Emmons, director of business services for the county superintendent of schools.

PRESENT TAX

The present tax method is most discriminatory—"some 65 per cent of Marin citizens paying close to 90 per cent of the county's total tax levy," declared Rowland. He said the legislature limits the amount of real property taxes that can be levied by state, county and city to 25 per cent of each body's total need.

The remainder could be raised through a statewide general gross transaction tax, Rowland suggested.

Bruce said the taxpayer would pay just as much or more under such a plan, with multiple taxes on sales and transactions pyramiding on the consumer.

Bruce and Snyker opposed growing practice of attempts to shift financing of locally used public facilities and services to higher governmental levels.

FEDERAL AID

"State and federal aid always means a measure of control which inherently is less responsive to local desires," averred Snyker. "The form of tax levy should be as direct as possible. The more this is true, the more likely taxpayers will interest themselves in the efficiency and economy of the taxing unit, and express themselves."

State and federal aid to schools crept into the discussion, to draw sparks of divergent fire.

"Our schools should be responsible for raising most of the educational funds, because the quality of each district's education is what the people of the district want and can do under the provisions of the State Constitution," Emmons declared.

The hour-long program, of which Kitty Oppenheimer was moderator, will be re-broadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Firemen Home Radios Tested

Samples of standby radios to be placed in off-duty firemen's homes were examined at last night's meeting of the Tiburon Fire Protection District commission.

The radios would be centrally controlled from the firehouse and make it possible to summon the firemen quickly, according to acting secretary Fred C. Hannahs. One is being tested in the home of Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher.

WANTS TO BE SGT. YORK, TOO

The latest York to join the military is Mary Elizabeth (Goldie) York, 18, granddaughter of World War I's Sgt. Alvin C. York. She was inducted into the Air Force yesterday in a ceremony at her grandfather's bedside in Pall Mall, Tenn., and placed a kiss on the cheek of the Medal of Honor winner. "I'll be a Sergeant York, too—before you know it!" she told the old soldier before she left for Lackland AFB, Tex. (AP Wirephoto)

Grading Ordinance Draft Is Disputed

Larkspur's proposed new grading ordinance, drafted and revised several times, was bounced over for another two months last night as city officials differed on whether the latest draft is ready for adoption.

City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner said he was not against the adoption of the ordinance, but some of the sections were so vague they would be unenforceable.

Henry Taylor, chairman of a committee which drew up the draft ordinance, said he felt it could be a guide for excavators to follow, and there could be some flexibility. Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug said he was ready to adopt the ordinance last night, but other councilmen decided that there were too many uncertainties. The councilmen referred the ordinance to the city attorney for rewriting.

Gardiner gave these examples of loose language: "A qualified person" is identified as "an engineer, geologist, or other recognized person."

"Recognized by whom?" asked Gardiner. He pointed out that arguments can develop over such wording.

Larkspur Fails To Find Plan For Recreation Unit

Larkspur City Council last night groped for but failed to come up with any specific plan to present next Wednesday night when the council meets with the Larkspur Recreation Commission, which is threatening to resign en masse.

Last month, chairman Peter Krug of the recreation commission complained that the commission's role is restricted to talking about Eastman Hall, and commissioners feel there is no challenge to their jobs.

A conflict between the recreation commission and City Manager Ronald E. Piper also came to light last night. Councilman Lesly A. Daveler criticized Piper for turning down the commission's request for 300 pine trees which could have been bought for $9.

Piper explained he had made arrangements to get suitable trees elsewhere, and when the commission made its own plan to get trees and asked him to buy them, he turned it down.

Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug said he thinks the recreation commission can be given more responsibility, such as discussing the recreation budget.

Piper wanted to know if that meant the budget for both parks and recreation. Parks are now handled by the city manager. If the park budget is to be controlled by the recreation commission, Piper said, he certainly cannot take responsibility for parks.

Councilman James R. Leinkaemper expressed doubt that next week's meeting with the recreation commission would be fruitful if the councilmen themselves cannot agree on what they want the commission to do.

Councilmen Daniel Allen and Daveler said they think more can be accomplished by meeting immediately with the recreation commission than by talking among the councilmen.

The council decided to meet with the recreation commission at 8 p.m. on Jan. 10.

WANTS TO BE SGT. YORK, TOO

The latest York to join the military is Mary Elizabeth (Goldie) York, 18, granddaughter of World War I's Sgt. Alvin C. York. She was inducted into the Air Force yesterday in a ceremony at her grandfather's bedside in Pall Mall, Tenn., and placed a kiss on the cheek of the Medal of Honor winner. "I'll be a Sergeant York, too—before you know it!" she told the old soldier before she left for Lackland AFB, Tex. (AP Wirephoto)

Grading Ordinance Draft Is Disputed

Larkspur's proposed new grading ordinance, drafted and revised several times, was bounced over for another two months last night as city officials differed on whether the latest draft is ready for adoption.

City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner said he was not against the adoption of the ordinance, but some of the sections were so vague they would be unenforceable.

Henry Taylor, chairman of a committee which drew up the draft ordinance, said he felt it could be a guide for excavators to follow, and there could be some flexibility. Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug said he was ready to adopt the ordinance last night, but other councilmen decided that there were too many uncertainties. The councilmen referred the ordinance to the city attorney for rewriting.

Gardiner gave these examples of loose language: "A qualified person" is identified as "an engineer, geologist, or other recognized person."

"Recognized by whom?" asked Gardiner. He pointed out that arguments can develop over such wording.

Larkspur Fails To Find Plan For Recreation Unit

Larkspur City Council last night groped for but failed to come up with any specific plan to present next Wednesday night when the council meets with the Larkspur Recreation Commission, which is threatening to resign en masse.

Last month, chairman Peter Krug of the recreation commission complained that the commission's role is restricted to talking about Eastman Hall, and commissioners feel there is no challenge to their jobs.

A conflict between the recreation commission and City Manager Ronald E. Piper also came to light last night. Councilman Lesly A. Daveler criticized Piper for turning down the commission's request for 300 pine trees which could have been bought for $9.

Jolly Markets Open 3rd Marin Location

A new Jolly Market, the third for Marin, opened today at 2040 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax.

The half-million-dollar market has been under construction since last July and occupies 17,000 square feet. It has a parking area for 200 cars.

Grand opening ceremonies, according to Robert Vannucci, president of Jolly Markets Inc., will be held later this month.

The store was designed by architect Arthur Iwata, and built on property of Charles Harney by Ronald Antonioli Inc. of San Rafael.

One of its many features is a meat wrapping machine which electronically wraps, weighs, prices and labels. The machine, one of the first in Marin, is designed to keep the meat handling operations "super clean," Vannucci said.

Another cleanliness feature is the automatic trimmer and disposal unit in the produce department. Groceries are integrated within gondolas, Vannucci added. Remote control cash register drawers are located at the point where groceries are bagged to enable the customer to see each grocery item as it is tallied on the register.

Other features include a complete inter-communication system, a dairy box with an air curtain so that customers may reach for dairy products without opening a door, and 100 feet of frozen food cabinets.

Keith's Bakery Shop has a service bakery in the market.

Personnel include Robert Angel of Fairfax, store manager; Robert Reh of Ignacio, assistant manager; Carroll Hall, San Rafael, meat manager; Robert Murray, Cotati, produce manager, and Charles Vogel, San Rafael, manager of the liquor department.

Hours are from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily and 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Other Jolly markets are in Kentfield and Mill Valley.

Girl Complains Of Being Struck

Police today were investigating the complaint of parents of a 10-year-old San Rafael girl who claimed that she was struck on the head last night in her family home by and unidentified tall, thin man.

Mr. and Mrs. Worford Norman of 207 Knight Drive said their daughter Diana told them when they returned home last night that earlier as she was about to turn on the television, she was struck on the back of the head, and turned in time to see the man leaving the house by the front door.

There was no explanation for the reported assault. Nothing in the home had been disturbed, police said.

Firm Against Romney Bid For Governor

DETROIT (AP) —George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., said yesterday that directors of the company have "made it very clear" that they don't want him to run for governor of Michigan this year.

Romney said the board disclosed its sentiments about his possible candidacy at a meeting Dec. 18 in New York.

The meeting was called, Romney said, to bring directors up to date on the competitive situation and other developments. His possible candidacy was one of the "other developments," Romney said.

Romney, 54, said last month that he would not necessarily resign as AMC president if he runs.

Romney is chairman of Citizens for Michigan and is a constitutional convention vice president. He has promised to decide on his gubernatorial candidacy by Feb. 10.

Romney is a Republican.

One explanation of the naming of Canada is that early Spanish explorers searched for gold there, found none and and said in disgust: "Aca Nada" or "Here is nothing."

Newspaper Folds Up

The Boyes Hot Springs Daily Review, operated by two former Mill Valleyans, published its last edition yesterday.

Publisher Zan Stark Jr., partner with his father in the enterprise, announced: "Plans to reorganize the paper did not work out and it was considered in the best interests of its creditors to suspend publication.

The Review was founded as a weekly in 1946. It went into daily publication in November, 1956, with the former Mill Valley father and son at the helm.

Circulation at the time of suspension was about 3,000, Stark said.

State Plans Transfers For 240 From Quentin

The state plans to transfer as many as 240 prisoners out of crowded San Quentin this month, it was announced today by Richard A. McGee, administrator of the California Youth and Adult Corrections Agency.

At the same time, Walter Dunbar, state director of corrections, disclosed plans to transfer 1,200 of the less serious offenders from prisons throughout the state to the former Mojave Marine Air Base in Kern County.

A special study committee is to decide whether this plan will be adopted, Dunbar said. Harold Lloyd, associate superintendent at Tehachapi Prison, heads the committee.

McGee said there were 4,926 inmates in San Quentin, compared with 3,361 at the end of 1960. The institution's rated capacity is 2,800.

Glenwood Election

New officers of the Glenwood Home Owners Assn. will be elected at a board meeting, deferred from the New Year period, to be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 10 at the Church of the Redeemer, 121 Knight Drive, San Rafael.

Glenn Must Wait

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., will have to wait at least an additional week before an attempt is made to rocket him aloft as the first American to orbit the earth.

Girl Complains Of Being Struck

Police today were investigating the complaint of parents of a 10-year-old San Rafael girl who claimed that she was struck on the head last night in her family home by and unidentified tall, thin man.

Mr. and Mrs. Worford Norman of 207 Knight Drive said their daughter Diana told them when they returned home last night that earlier as she was about to turn on the television, she was struck on the back of the head, and turned in time to see the man leaving the house by the front door.

There was no explanation for the reported assault. Nothing in the home had been disturbed, police said.

Firm Against Romney Bid For Governor

DETROIT (AP) —George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., said yesterday that directors of the company have "made it very clear" that they don't want him to run for governor of Michigan this year.

Romney said the board disclosed its sentiments about his possible candidacy at a meeting Dec. 18 in New York.

The meeting was called, Romney said, to bring directors up to date on the competitive situation and other developments. His possible candidacy was one of the "other developments," Romney said.

Romney, 54, said last month that he would not necessarily resign as AMC president if he runs.

Romney is chairman of Citizens for Michigan and is a constitutional convention vice president. He has promised to decide on his gubernatorial candidacy by Feb. 10.

Romney is a Republican.

One explanation of the naming of Canada is that early Spanish explorers searched for gold there, found none and and said in disgust: "Aca Nada" or "Here is nothing."

Newspaper Folds Up

The Boyes Hot Springs Daily Review, operated by two former Mill Valleyans, published its last edition yesterday.

Publisher Zan Stark Jr., partner with his father in the enterprise, announced: "Plans to reorganize the paper did not work out and it was considered in the best interests of its creditors to suspend publication.

The Review was founded as a weekly in 1946. It went into daily publication in November, 1956, with the former Mill Valley father and son at the helm.

Circulation at the time of suspension was about 3,000, Stark said.

State Plans Transfers For 240 From Quentin

The state plans to transfer as many as 240 prisoners out of crowded San Quentin this month, it was announced today by Richard A. McGee, administrator of the California Youth and Adult Corrections Agency.

At the same time, Walter Dunbar, state director of corrections, disclosed plans to transfer 1,200 of the less serious offenders from prisons throughout the state to the former Mojave Marine Air Base in Kern County.

A special study committee is to decide whether this plan will be adopted, Dunbar said. Harold Lloyd, associate superintendent at Tehachapi Prison, heads the committee.

McGee said there were 4,926 inmates in San Quentin, compared with 3,361 at the end of 1960. The institution's rated capacity is 2,800.

Glenwood Election

New officers of the Glenwood Home Owners Assn. will be elected at a board meeting, deferred from the New Year period, to be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 10 at the Church of the Redeemer, 121 Knight Drive, San Rafael.

Glenn Must Wait

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., will have to wait at least an additional week before an attempt is made to rocket him aloft as the first American to orbit the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration yesterday postponed the launching from Jan. 16 to Jan. 23

Negotiations On Smith Contract Set For Private Session Tonight

Negotiations on a possible new contract for William J. J. Smith as superintendent of Novato Unified School District will begin at a closed session of the district's trustees tonight.

The session will follow a public hearing on annexation of Novato to Marin Junior College District, set for 8 p.m. at Marion School.

Status of press and radio coverage of the negotiating session will be established as first order of business, trustee chairman Earl Marshall said.

At a board meeting Tuesday night, at which many of the 200 persons attending spoke for and against board policies regarding the Smith contract, the board agreed to invite newspapers and radio KTIM to have representatives at the negotiating session, with a proviso that portions of the session might be kept "off the record."

The Independent - Journal and radio KTIM subsequently objected to any restrictions on coverage if permitted to attend. Marshall said the board's position would be clarified tonight.

The board may legally hold the session either behind closed doors or open to the public. Trustees agreed at the Tuesday night hearing, however—as did some speakers in the audience—that it would be impossible to negotiate with a large crowd present.

Smith, who on previous occasions had requested closed sessions, said he would have no objection to the negotiations being made public.

The superintendent presented his resignation at a meeting of the board last week, at conclusion of a long closed session. It was accepted by 3-2 vote of the board. His present contract expires next June 30. Under discussion tonight will be whether he should be tendered a new contract.

Firm Files Articles For Incorporation

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced Flax's Artists Material, a San Francisco retail artist material firm, has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $100,000 in $10 par shares.

Directors of the company were listed as Sylvia P. Flax, San Francisco; Jerome S. Flax, 10 Lagunitas Road, Ross; and Philip L. Flax, 49 Keats Drive, Mill Valley.

Larkspur Plaza Project Approval Put Off 2 Weeks

Improvement plans for the Larkspur Plaza project will not be approved for two weeks because several minor engineering revisions are needed, and sidewalks were not shown on the plans presented to the Larkspur City Council last night.

However, City Engineer Beverly Whitlow reported the developers, Reedland Heights Inc., had agreed to all the changes he had proposed.

The city council voted a progress payment of $19,305 to Reedland Heights Inc., and put off action on the development plan for two weeks. A shopping center and apartments are planned on 17 acres at the corner of Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive.

In other actions last night, the Larkspur Council:

1. Introduced ordinances to adopt the latest Uniform Building Code, Uniform Plumbing Code, and National Electrical Code.

2. Added a new commercial category (C-1) to the city zoning ordinance. Up to now Larkspur had one commercial category (B-1), which was all inclusive. The new zone would be more restrictive, requiring greater setbacks, more offstreet parking, and landscaping.

3. Deferred for two weeks the naming of a new planning commissioner.

Marinite's Kin In Goa Fight

The recent military action resulting in India's capture of Goa had Marin county repercussions today.

A. F. E. DaSilva of 311 D Street, San Rafael—and a Marin county resident for more than 40 years—received word from Portugal that two of his nephews had prominent parts in the action following India's sudden attack on the Portuguese territory.

One nephew, Cmdr. Antonio Cunha Aragao, commander of a Portuguese warship, engaged three Indian warships off Goa. In the unexpected battle, the Portuguese vessel and one Indian warship were sunk in an eigh-hour fight. Aragao was injured when a bomb exploded on the bridge of his ship. He is hospitalized in India as a prisoner of war at latest report, said DaSilva.

Another nephew, Maj. Francisco Solano de Almeida, commander of the Far Eastern Portuguese Air Force, supervised evacuation of Portuguese citizens from Goa, and flying of all Portuguese aircraft to Portugal. He piloted the last plane load of evacuees to Portugal, where he now is stationed.

Marin Stanford Conference Set For March 17

Stanford University is coming to Marin County March 17.

There will be no football games or track meets—just a one-day Stanford Conference, during which students, faculty and administrators will participate in a series of faculty lectures of broad public interest.

The conference is open to all interested persons. Attendants will have a choice of speakers and topics they wish to hear.

Stanford Conferences, now in their 30th year will be held in 16 California communities. Local Stanford Alumni Clubs are in charge of local arrangements. Co-chairmen of the Marin conference in March are William R. Kimball Jr of San Rafael and William A. Niccolls of Ross.

Aliens Reminded They Must Report

Aliens of Marin County are required to report their current addresses to the Immigration and Naturalization Service during January, Ralph H. Holton, district director of that federal agency, reported today.

Easy-to-fill-in cards are available at all local postoffices, and the cards may be returned to the same office. A parent or legal guardian should submit the report for an alien child under 14.

Drakes Beach Proposal Sent To Planners

A planting and landscaping program for Drakes Beach County Park last night was submitted by the county planning department to the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Chairman Gibbs Lawson of Dillon Beach noted expressions of satisfaction from all commission members although no formal vote was registered. The plan was referred to Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham for engineering comments and cost estimates.

After Brigham has acted, the program will be put before the county supervisors. It undoubtedly will be included in next year's budget requests, Lawson said.

The meeting was told that the public works department has done considerable work to improve the park and that there is now provision for parking about 200 automobiles.

Mrs. Wayne Tharp of Novato, secretary of the commission, was reappointed for a four-year term.

Election of officers will be held Feb. 7.

Small Band Of Mill Valleyans Hold Off Biggio Land Rezoning

A small band of "Goheen Gulchers," bolstered by county Supervisor Peter Behr, were successful in holding off rezoning of the Biggio property by the Mill Valley City Council last night.

The council continued the public hearing to Feb. 21 pending final determination of Mill Valley's $300,000 loan by the California Small Craft Harbor Commission for a yacht harbor.

Dave and Palmira Biggio ask rezoning of approximately four acres of land at Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue from residential to commercial-recreational. The parcel abuts the 17-acre city recreational land, Project 17, and is in the vicinity of the proposed yacht harbor.

Leading the opposition to rezoning was attorney Roderick Robinson, who lives in the adjoining tract called "Goheen Gulch" after builder George C. Goheen Sr. Robinson said, "We object because we do not want it opened up to restaurants, bar facilities, motels and hotels with the creation of more congestion and noise." He asked that the land be kept residential until the Biggios came in with a proposal.

Behr, who said "I represent no one but myself," said rezoning would affect the whole city and that the property did not fall under the specifications of the commercial-recreational ordinance, which he read in part.

State Assemblyman William T. Bagley, representing the Biggios, urged the council to approve rezoning, saying there is no contemplated useage in mind for the property, the area should be upgraded, there is not city useage contemplated, and the ordinance limits any useage to the use permit procedure.

Councilman George D. Monardo moved the council uphold the planning commission's recommendation for rezoning. Mayor Robert D. Huber seconded it for purposes of discussion. Following discussion, Bagley requested continuance pending final decision of the state Small Craft Harbor Commission on Mill Valley's loan. The commission is to meet Jan. 15 in San Leandro.

A petition with 108 signatures protesting rezoning was read, as were a letter of protest from Rev. G. R. Oakes, pastor of Mill Valley Methodist Church, and a letter from the parks and recreation commission which asked for delay until yacht harbor action was taken.

Manuel Gomez spoke for rezoning saying the city was dragging its feet, that it needs a "decent restaurant" and it is "letting the marshland sit with seagulls on it." He said the Biggio corner is a disgrace now with "corrugated shacks, garbage and rats flying about."

The council spent one hour and 35 minutes on the matter.

In action later concerning the small craft harbor, the council voted 4-0 (Councilman Michael Wornum absent) to adopt a resolution putting $25,000 from its drainage and flood control fund into a special fund to be used for the city's contribution to cost of the proposed pilot channel.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants announced that Monardo and city engineer Stanley M. Bala would go to Sacramento today to discuss details with the Small Craft Harbor Commission.

Fire Claims Two From Bay Family

WOLF CREEK, Mont. (UPI) — The wife and daughter of a San Francisco investment broker died yesterday in a fire that swept a $90,000 lodge at the family's ranch near Wolf Creek.

The victims were Vivian Milton, 35, and 3-year-old Julie Milton, wife and daughter of Pierce Milton. The family's home is in Lafayette.

Sheriff-Coroner Dave Middlemas said the lodge was destroyed, and only the bones of the victims were found. They apparently were on a bed in a second floor bedroom, he said.

College Of Marin Has No Candidate For Treasurer

College of Marin may find itself without anyone to take care of the associated student body funds, at least for awhile.

In student body elections which started today and will continue through tomorrow, no one has registered to run for treasurer. In another office the candidate runs unopposed.

Three candidates for the presidency are Marc Mezetta, current vice president, Mike Gilman and Larry Craig. Running for vice president are Karl Gadrnicek and Rick Burger. Unopposed candidate for secretary is Margaret Deedy, daughter of trustee clerk Elizabeth M. Deedy.

If the treasurer's position remains open, one will be appointed by the student council.

Results of the election will be announced tomorrow afternoon.

WHY A MIS-MATCH SALE?

GROUP 1
18.88

GROUP 2
In this group you'll find 252 coil and up to 405 coil mattresses in medium firm and firm constructions, heavy duty covers. Normally 39.95 values and in choice of twins or full size while they last. Some box springs too. Your choice.
28.88

GROUP 3
Twin and full size mattresses that normally sell for $49.95 and more included in this group. Extra firm 510 coil construction, and others, prebuilt borders, side ventilators, some with foam padded tops. Box springs designed to give firm support. Your choice.
38.88

Now is the time to save on fine quality mattresses and springs. Shop early for best selection, whether you need only a box spring, or only a mattress, or if you need a complete set, now is your chance to save.

WHY A MIS-MATCH SALE?

GROUP 1
18.88

GROUP 2
In this group you'll find 252 coil and up to 405 coil mattresses in medium firm and firm constructions, heavy duty covers. Normally 39.95 values and in choice of twins or full size while they last. Some box springs too. Your choice.
28.88

GROUP 3
Twin and full size mattresses that normally sell for $49.95 and more included in this group. Extra firm 510 coil construction, and others, prebuilt borders, side ventilators, some with foam padded tops. Box springs designed to give firm support. Your choice.
38.88

Now is the time to save on fine quality mattresses and springs. Shop early for best selection, whether you need only a box spring, or only a mattress, or if you need a complete set, now is your chance to save.

San Rafael's Lady Banker Made Officer

San Rafael's lady banker has been made an officer of Wells Fargo-American Trust Co.

Mrs. Jacqueline Nyquist, who since 1954 has worked in the San Rafael office of American Trust and its successor, Wells Fargo American Trust, had been promoted by the banking firm's board of directors to the rank of assistant cashier in real estate loans.

This month Mrs. Nyquist marks here 35th anniversary in banking. She served in Livermore and San Leandro offices of American Trust before moving to the San Rafael office.

A widow, Mrs. Nyquist is a member of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, the women's division of the Marin County Real Estate Board, and the National Assn. of Bank Women. She has attended schools sponsored by the American Institute of Banking and the Mortgage Bankers Assn.

Mrs. Nyquist has lived in Kentfield for the past seven years. Her leisure time is usually spent in gardening, photography, and bowling.

Second Annual Student Missions Conference Set

Golden Gate Baptist Seminary's second annual student missions conference will be held March 2-4, Dr. L. A. Brown, chairman, said today.

"Encounter" is the theme of the conference which is open to all high school seniors and college age people with special emphasis on Christmas and mission volunteers.

Lodging will be provided on campus and in homes of Baptists at no charge to students, Dr. Brown said, and a small registration fee will be charged.

California Seed Production Drops

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California field seed production dropped significantly during 1961, according to State Crop Reporting Service statistics.

The agency said production of nine field seedcrops would total 80,200,000 pounds, a drop of 5 per cent from 1960 and the smallest crop since 1952.

Substantial declines were listed in alfalfa seed, alsike clover, red clover and mustard seed. These were partially offset by increased production of sudangrass, Merion bluegrass and purple and common vetch.

Puerto Suello Solution Is Offered

A rail fan who grew up in Sonoma County has proposed to the Interstate Commerce Commission a way to reopen Northwestern Pacific Railroad's caved-in Puerto Suello tunnel at what he claims would be considerable saving.

"This 1,500-foot bore could be daylighted for about 40 per cent of its present length without endangering life, property and access highways in that area, thus leaving about 700 feet of the original tunnel to be restored and cutting the cost of rebuilding the bore one-half of the estimated cost," Nervo wrote in a letter to Paul C. Albus, ICC examiner in Washington.

In applying to the ICC for permission to permanently abandon trackage between Ignacio and San Rafael—which has been out of use since the tunnel fire and cave-in of last July 20—the railroad has contended that it would cost $900,000 to restore the tunnel, and that traffic over this portion of its main line would not justify such an outlay.

Nervo, in a protest against the abandonment, contended that it would be preferable for NWP to be allowed to abandon its line between Detour and Sausalito. Repair of the Corte Madera tunnel on that line has been estimated by the railroad as nearly as expensive as rebuilding the Puerto Suello bore. The ICC held hearings last spring on NWP's proposal to abandon the Sausalito service but has as yet rendered no decision.

"Daylighting" the tunnel would mean converting a portion to an open cut rather than a bore—a cheaper method of construction.

State Legislature Won't Seem Quite Same Without Levering

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Some of the color and much of the sting will be missing in the legislature with the retirement of Assemblyman Harold K. Levering.

The 67-year-old Los Angeles Republican will be here for the 1962 budget session in February. But he has announced he will not seek re-election this year.

Levering has represented the Santa Monica area since 1949. He early made a name for himself as an outspoken conservative, a foe of big spending and, above all, an implacable enemy of "bureaucracy."

Even as majority floor leader during 1953-54, it was not unusual for the wiry, sharp-tongued Republican to take on his own party or the GOP administration.

Typically, Levering spearheaded a legislative investigation into unemployment insurance chiseling during the time Goodwin J. Knight was governor. But he found a broad target when the Democrats captured the legislature and governorship in 1959.

A well-to-do retired auto dealer, Levering succeeded in installing what has become known as the Levering oath, now required of all public employes in California. The oath affirms that the employe is not a member of any organization which advocates forcible overthrow of the government.

When another attempt was made in the 1961 legislature to modify the Levering Act, the veteran lawmaker berated his opponents as "wild-eyed radicals."

Urging defeat of the Unruh bill to change the absentee voter law, he said "the Democrats don't want an honest election." He characterized Democratim Gov. Edmund G. Brown as "nervous and jittery."

Another bill, to ban use of injunctions against labor disputes, was denounced by Levering as "the best designed master plan for racketeer control of both union and industry I've ever seen."

Levering dismissed Brown's inaugural address in 1959 by saying it offered nothing but "glittering promises and broad generalities."

Throughout the years, however, his favorite target has been opposition to any policy—whether Democratic or Republican—which in his opinion "further expand our bureaucracy and impose unnecessary taxes on the people."

"We know that government cannot make men prosperous any more than it can make men good," he said a few months back. "It can merely seize and divide up what individuals produce. Government can give the people nothing which government has not first taken away from them."

Mill Valley Car Dealers To Close Sundays

Three Mill Valley automobile dealers announced today that they have decided to keep their business places closed on Sundays beginning this Sunday.

This means all Mill Valley new car dealerships will be closed on Sundays.

"This is a precedent in the county for any group of dealers to set in one city," said Herman Boldetti, partner with Ernie Joe in J. and B. Ford at 250 East Blithedale Avenue.

Boldetti said it is also an unusual occurrence for three competitors to take. By so doing, he said, "we believe we can attain higher caliber employees. They will have a regular work week and have Sunday off to spend with their families."

The other two dealers are Larry Brink Motors Inc. at 433 and 450 Miller Avenue and Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co. at 383 Miller Avenue.

All three will also close their used car sales lots on Sundays.

Other new automobile dealers, already closed on Sunday in Mill Valley are Shamrock Motors and Mill Valley Volkswagen.

Conference Called On Traffic Safety

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced today he is calling a statewide governor's traffic safety conference in Los Angeles Feb. 1-2 in an attempt to combat the rising highway death toll in the state.

The death toll for 1931 was 3837 persons.

"We have the finest system of highways and freeways in the nation and they are built for safe driving," Brown said. "Insurance records show that California is a safer place to drive than seven of the 11 western states."

Harold Palmer Callison, 53, driver for Hess Lumber Co. in San Rafael and former San Anselmo resident who collapsed and died while working Thursday, was erroneously referred to as Collison in the Friday and Saturday editions of the Independent-Journal.

School Aide Cleared On Morals Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A San Bernardino County school principal has been acquitted in municipal court on a morals charge.

Municipal Judge Albert A. Axelrod returned the verdict in the case of Robert L. McKim, 47, superintendent of the Highland Elementary School District, who was arrested with three other men Dec. 6 while he was attending the California Assn. of School Administrators convention.

Judge Axelrod said that as far as McKim was concerned there was no showing that he committed any indecent act before his arrest in the inner lobby of a Market Street theater.

The prosecution contended that McKim lingered as an onlooker when he came on three other men, two of whom have been charged with engaging in an illicit act.

More than 853,087 U.S. passports were issued or renewed in 1960, an increase of 16.5 over 1959. Residents of New York, California, Illinois and New Jersey obtained 439,210 passports, or 51 per cent of the total issued and renewed.

More Marriages Than Divorces

RENO (UPI)—Marriage licenses outnumbered divorce actions six to one last year in Washoe County.

County Clerk Harry Brown said 24,210 marriage licenses were issued. This was topped in 1942, 1946, 1947 and 1948.

Half Moon Bay Gets Widened

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Half Moon Bay, on the Pacific Ocean south of here, has become a three-quarter moon bay.

Two breakwaters on the east and west of the bay have been completed by the Army Engineers in a five million dollar project to enclose the area with a 600-foot entrance channel from the open sea.

The two broad, squat breakwaters reach 2,620 feet toward the shore from Pillar Point, on the west, and extend 4,420 feet into the sea from the east. They enclose a harbor area now of 245 acres of water more than six feet deep to provide protection for small craft, fishermen and swimmers.

Frogs, toads, newts and salamanders are the most common amphibians. They represent an intermediate stage of development between fishes and reptiles.

Blue Chip Stamps Coming To Marin

Blue Chip "thrift stamps" will henceforth be given to patrons of the Lucky Store in Fairfax, along with all other Lucky Stores.

It wasn't news to two of Lucky's Marin competitors — Safeway and Purity—for they had notification three weeks ago.

The Blue Chip Stamp Co., with newly occupied headquarters and redemption store in Richmond, is owned jointly by Lucky, Purity and Safeway along with seven major supermarket chains.

All owners have the option of using Blue Chip stamps but so far, Lucky is the first to pick up the option in Marin County.

Blue Chip sales manager Walter Snow in Richmond confessed today that this creates a situation highly frustrating to any red-blooded sales manager.

"What do I do in Marin County?" asked Snow. "Well, normally I'd be over there egging everybody on to meet competition by using stamps.

"Under the circumstances what do I do? Not a blamed thing. The stores are my bosses and have to make up their minds for themselves."

Snow said there was as yet no indication that other chains plan to offer Blue Chip stamps at their Marin stores.

Conference Called On Traffic Safety

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced today he is calling a statewide governor's traffic safety conference in Los Angeles Feb. 1-2 in an attempt to combat the rising highway death toll in the state.

The death toll for 1931 was 3837 persons.

"We have the finest system of highways and freeways in the nation and they are built for safe driving," Brown said. "Insurance records show that California is a safer place to drive than seven of the 11 western states."

School Aide Cleared On Morals Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A San Bernardino County school principal has been acquitted in municipal court on a morals charge.

Municipal Judge Albert A. Axelrod returned the verdict in the case of Robert L. McKim, 47, superintendent of the Highland Elementary School District, who was arrested with three other men Dec. 6 while he was attending the California Assn. of School Administrators convention.

Judge Axelrod said that as far as McKim was concerned there was no showing that he committed any indecent act before his arrest in the inner lobby of a Market Street theater.

The prosecution contended that McKim lingered as an onlooker when he came on three other men, two of whom have been charged with engaging in an illicit act.

More than 853,087 U.S. passports were issued or renewed in 1960, an increase of 16.5 over 1959. Residents of New York, California, Illinois and New Jersey obtained 439,210 passports, or 51 per cent of the total issued and renewed.

Mill Valley Car Dealers To Close Sundays

Three Mill Valley automobile dealers announced today that they have decided to keep their business places closed on Sundays beginning this Sunday.

This means all Mill Valley new car dealerships will be closed on Sundays.

"This is a precedent in the county for any group of dealers to set in one city," said Herman Boldetti, partner with Ernie Joe in J. and B. Ford at 250 East Blithedale Avenue.

Boldetti said it is also an unusual occurrence for three competitors to take. By so doing, he said, "we believe we can attain higher caliber employees. They will have a regular work week and have Sunday off to spend with their families."

The other two dealers are Larry Brink Motors Inc. at 433 and 450 Miller Avenue and Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co. at 383 Miller Avenue.

All three will also close their used car sales lots on Sundays.

Other new automobile dealers, already closed on Sunday in Mill Valley are Shamrock Motors and Mill Valley Volkswagen.

More Marriages Than Divorces

RENO (UPI)—Marriage licenses outnumbered divorce actions six to one last year in Washoe County.

County Clerk Harry Brown said 24,210 marriage licenses were issued. This was topped in 1942, 1946, 1947 and 1948.

LSU Threatens Legal Action If Dietzel Takes Army Job

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The big pull came from the South today in the tug of war between Louisiana State University and the Army over the football coaching services of LSU's Paul Dietzel.

Tom Dutton, a member of the LSU board of supervisors which hires and fires football coaches, said he would ask the board to take legal action against Dietzel if he asked to be released from the remaining four years of his $18,500 a year contract.

There were reports from West Point that Dietzel had asked the board to meet to consider such a request. Not so, said Dutton. The board has not been asked to meet.

As for Dietzel—the 38-year-old coach who guided LSU to the national championship in 1958 and to three bowl games in the last four years—well, he wasn't saying anything.

"My only comment, for what it's worth, is no comment," he told The Associated Press Wednesday night. He would neither confirm nor deny (1) if he had asked the board to meet (2) if he had been approached by military academy authorities or (3) if he would fly to New York this week to confer with Army officials.

HALL FIRED

The Army fired Dale Hall several weeks ago. West Point athletic authorities apparently felt that Dietzel, a one-time aide to former Army Coach Earl Red Blaik, was the man to replace Hall.

To The Knowledgable Lombardi's Trip With Giants' Mara Is Natural

HANLEY

There was a press association dispatch from Green Bay the other day reporting that Vince Lombardi and Wellington Mara were going on a European vacation together.

"That wouldn't be especially significant if Mara wasn't one of the owners of the New York Giants who lost the NFL title 37-0 to Lombardi's Packers," the dispatch added.

To the uninformed it does sound incongruous but to NFL oldtimers nothing could be more natural and logical. If Bert Bell were still alive he probably would make it a trio on the European jaunt.

It was Bell who persuaded Mara in February of 1959 to let Lombardi go to Green Bay and it was Bell who sold Lombardi on the idea of tearing up deep New York roots that were almost as firm as Fordham's old seven blocks of granite of which Lombardi was one.

Lombardi had lived his entire life in and about New York up to the time Bell approached him with the idea of taking on the tough job of rebuilding the Packers and reestablishing the pride Green Bay once had in its football teams.

BELL, AS NFL commissioner, was deeply concerned about the sorry state into which football had fallen at Green Bay. Bell never overlooked the fact Green Bay cradled pro football more than four decades ago. He saw romance in the little Wisconsin town rubbing shoulders each Sunday with New York or one of the other big cities. He knew that was good for pro football—Green Bay representing every small town in the country against the big fellow.

Bell also knew that Lombardi was the right man for the job. Hadn't Lombardi fashioned a string of 36 victories as a New Jersey high school coach before returning to Fordham as freshman coach? Wasn't Lombardi the man responsible for Earl Blaik's rugged Army lines over a five year period. And didn't he do the same kind of five year line job for Jim Lee Howell and the Giants when he made the big jump to the pros in 1954?

This, and more, Bell told the multiple owners of the Green Bay team that had toppled from the football heights to a disorganized last - place patsy. They accepted his recommendation that Lombardi not only be made coach but also general manager of the Packers with broad powers. They agreed because they knew Bell, always a big city man himself and a member of a socially and politically prominent Philadelphia family, was sincere in his concern about Green Bay's football fortunes.

WHAT HAS happened since, of course, is history. Bell didn't live to see Green Bay's football resurgence but he never doubted it would occur under Lombardi. He died of a heart attack Oct. 11, 1959. The 49ers and Packers were playing that Sunday in Green Bay's new stadium that Bell helped to build. News of his death announced over the stadium loudspeaker genuinely grieved Green Bay's fans.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Saints of the American Basketball League yesterday announced signing 255-pound Jack Allain, former Idaho State star.

Allain, who stands 6-9, was the leading rebounder on the Rocky Mountain Conference championship teams from 1955-58.

He played high school basketball at Serra High School in San Mateo County.

Giants Shade Sonoma; Loop Opens Tomorrow

Redwood High is the only Marin County Athletic League basketball team to have picked up a win this week before the league's 1962 opening games tomorrow night.

The Giants, defending champions of the MCAL, downed Sonoma High yesterday, 45-42. Tuesday the other four MCAL prep teams lost to out-of-county teams.

Redwood will open against San Rafael High at the Bulldogs' gym; Novato will clash at Tamalpais High and Marin Catholic will vie with Sir Francis Drake, the 1961 MCAL Christmas Tournament champ at Drake. The Class B preliminary games are scheduled for 7 p.m., followed immediately by the varsity features.

In other games including Marin County high school basketball teams tomorrow Tomales will battle at Kelseyville at 7 p.m. in a North Bay League contest; the San Rafael Military Academy Cadets will face their toughest rival in a Bay Counties League game when they play at Menlo at 7 p.m., and Terra Linda will go against the Tam Jay Vees at Tam at 4 p.m.

(The College of Marin Tars will play at pre-conference game against the University of San Francisco Golds at Novato High's gymnasium tomorrow at 8 p.m.)

In Redwood's game yesterday against Sonoma, the Giants rebounded from a two-point half-time deficit to an easy eight-point lead in the final minutes of the third period. Coach Dick Hart of the Larkspur squad began full substitution in the final period and the reserves preserved the lead.

Team leader and high point man was Jay Johnson with 16 points. Pete Coy scored 12 points for Redwood and was the high rebounder of the day with 15 takes. Forward Rick Skinner was the next best rebounder for the Giants and Tod Lindner along with Skinner was praised by Hart for improved performance on the hardwood.

The Giants' B team lost 33-28. A high of nine points apiece was tallied by Dave Flowers and Sam Mercer of the Giants.

Conerly May Retire After 24 Grid Years

By OSCAR FRALEY

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—After 24 years in football, chucklin' Charley Conerly of the New York Giants said today it would be "another couple of months" before he decides whether to make it an even quarter of a century.

Conerly, who in 14 years as a professional has had more ups and downs than a ferris wheel, long has said that he would not stand in anyone else's shadow when he appeared to have reached the end of the trail. There are many who thought he did this year as he surrendered his number one post to Y. A. Tittle.

"I really don't know what I'm going to do and won't know for another couple of months," Conerly said. "Even if I decide to retire, I don't know what I'll do then."

The betting among the pro football gentry, massed here to compete in the National Football League players golf tournament at the Hollywood Beach Hotel golf course, is that Conerly will be back.

"He's making about $31,000 a year," said one. "So maybe he'll have to take a cut. But that's a lot of money to pass up, particularly when there isn't anything particularly lucrative in the offing."

Conerly is the first to admit that a grid-less future is rather mystifying.

"It's all I know," said the 40-year-old Mississippian in a low voice, digging the toe of his driver into the turf beside the first tee. "Aside from two years in service, it's about all I've ever done."

But the man with the lined face and the snow showing on the shingles admits that maybe the time at long last has arrived.

"After all," he said slowly, staring at the ground, "it's a tough game. Each year it takes you just a little bit longer each week to get over the bruises you picked up in Sunday's game. And each year it's just that much harder to get the legs in shape. And you don't play anything without those legs."

Conerly is the oldest performer in the National League. His career spans 24 years: Four years in high school, four in college interspersed by two years in combat with the Marines and 14 years with the pros.

Conerly took a practice swing with his club and then, called to the first tee, said almost to himself that he needed more time to decide his future course.

"I know I don't want to coach," he said. "But that's about all I do know.

"Except," he added in parting, "that I hate to think of it all coming to an end."

It's Donkey Time At Giantsville

The Redwood High School faculty will reveal the result of age tonight as they tangle in a "donkey" basketball game with the young and aggressive members of the Redwood High School Lettermen's Club at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym.

Athletic director Bob Troppmann said some 500 persons are expected to attend the third annual "fun game" played as a benefit for the Redwood Benchmen's Club.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children.

L.A. Angels Mail Contracts For '62

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have mailed contracts to 39 players for the 1962 season and General Manager Fred Haney says he anticipates no trouble signing anyone.

The Angels will open their spring camp at Palm Springs Feb. 20. Missing from the squad will be two men now in the service, infielder Gene Leek and southpaw pitcher Ron Moeller.

Infielder George Thomas, who is in the 32nd Wisconsin Division stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash., may be freed under President Kennedy's order activating two permanent Army divisions. Thomas would not be available for spring training but could rejoin the team in mid-season.

Drafted Pro Athletes May Get A Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major league baseball players called to active military service last fall probably won't make spring training, but they could see action before the 1962 season is half over.

There has been no definite decision, but it appeared possible today that such players as Tony Kubek of the World champion New York Yankees and Ron Hansen of the Baltimore Orioles both shortstops, may be cavorting around the infield before July 4.

President Kennedy announced yesterday that two new regular Army divisions would be formed this year. The announcement said the two National Guard divisions and assorted National Guard and reserve units reactivated in September and October "will be released this year as the international situation and the readiness status of the two new divisions permit."

Under law, the 32nd Division of Wisconsin and the 49th Division of Texas can be held until next Oct. 15. But Defense Department officials have indicated they are shooting for deactivating by June 30. Some smaller units could be released before then.

PLENTY OF TIME

Reactivated professional football players would be demobilized in plenty of time for the 1962 season if the June 30 date is achieved.

Besides Kubek and Hansen, some of the major leaguers called to active duty last fall included Steve Barber and Barry Shetrone of Baltimore, Bob Johnson of Washington, Jim Grant, Wynn Hawkins and Walter Bond of Cleveland, Dick McAuliffe of Detroit, George Thomas of the Los Angeles Angels, Reuben Amaro and Jim Coker of Philadelphia, Dick Bertell of the Chicago Cubs and John Orsino of San Francisco.

Graham Leads Golf Tourney Qualifiers

Otto Graham, former quarterback of the Cleveland Browns, led qualifiers Wednesday with a 38-38—76 over the 6,500-yard par 70 Hollywood Beach golf course.

In the active players division, Ralph Guglielmi of the St. Louis Cardinals led with 39-38—77. Zeke Bratkowski, quarterback of the Los Angeles Rams and defending champion, had a 45-43—88.

"I really don't know what I'm going to do and won't know for another couple of months," Conerly said. "Even if I decide to retire, I don't know what I'll do then."

The betting among the pro football gentry, massed here to compete in the National Football League players golf tournament at the Hollywood Beach Hotel golf course, is that Conerly will be back.

"He's making about $31,000 a year," said one. "So maybe he'll have to take a cut. But that's a lot of money to pass up, particularly when there isn't anything particularly lucrative in the offing."

Conerly is the first to admit that a grid-less future is rather mystifying.

"It's all I know," said the 40-year-old Mississippian in a low voice, digging the toe of his driver into the turf beside the first tee. "Aside from two years in service, it's about all I've ever done."

But the man with the lined face and the snow showing on the shingles admits that maybe the time at long last has arrived.

"After all," he said slowly, staring at the ground, "it's a tough game. Each year it takes you just a little bit longer each week to get over the bruises you picked up in Sunday's game. And each year it's just that much harder to get the legs in shape. And you don't play anything without those legs."

Conerly is the oldest performer in the National League. His career spans 24 years: Four years in high school, four in college interspersed by two years in combat with the Marines and 14 years with the pros.

Conerly took a practice swing with his club and then, called to the first tee, said almost to himself that he needed more time to decide his future course.

"I know I don't want to coach," he said. "But that's about all I do know.

"Except," he added in parting, "that I hate to think of it all coming to an end."

It's Donkey Time At Giantsville

The Redwood High School faculty will reveal the result of age tonight as they tangle in a "donkey" basketball game with the young and aggressive members of the Redwood High School Lettermen's Club at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym.

Athletic director Bob Troppmann said some 500 persons are expected to attend the third annual "fun game" played as a benefit for the Redwood Benchmen's Club.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children.

L.A. Angels Mail Contracts For '62

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have mailed contracts to 39 players for the 1962 season and General Manager Fred Haney says he anticipates no trouble signing anyone.

The Angels will open their spring camp at Palm Springs Feb. 20. Missing from the squad will be two men now in the service, infielder Gene Leek and southpaw pitcher Ron Moeller.

Infielder George Thomas, who is in the 32nd Wisconsin Division stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash., may be freed under President Kennedy's order activating two permanent Army divisions. Thomas would not be available for spring training but could rejoin the team in mid-season.

Drafted Pro Athletes May Get A Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major league baseball players called to active military service last fall probably won't make spring training, but they could see action before the 1962 season is half over.

There has been no definite decision, but it appeared possible today that such players as Tony Kubek of the World champion New York Yankees and Ron Hansen of the Baltimore Orioles both shortstops, may be cavorting around the infield before July 4.

President Kennedy announced yesterday that two new regular Army divisions would be formed this year. The announcement said the two National Guard divisions and assorted National Guard and reserve units reactivated in September and October "will be released this year as the international situation and the readiness status of the two new divisions permit."

Under law, the 32nd Division of Wisconsin and the 49th Division of Texas can be held until next Oct. 15. But Defense Department officials have indicated they are shooting for deactivating by June 30. Some smaller units could be released before then.

PLENTY OF TIME

Reactivated professional football players would be demobilized in plenty of time for the 1962 season if the June 30 date is achieved.

Besides Kubek and Hansen, some of the major leaguers called to active duty last fall included Steve Barber and Barry Shetrone of Baltimore, Bob Johnson of Washington, Jim Grant, Wynn Hawkins and Walter Bond of Cleveland, Dick McAuliffe of Detroit, George Thomas of the Los Angeles Angels, Reuben Amaro and Jim Coker of Philadelphia, Dick Bertell of the Chicago Cubs and John Orsino of San Francisco.

Graham Leads Golf Tourney Qualifiers

Otto Graham, former quarterback of the Cleveland Browns, led qualifiers Wednesday with a 38-38—76 over the 6,500-yard par 70 Hollywood Beach golf course.

In the active players division, Ralph Guglielmi of the St. Louis Cardinals led with 39-38—77. Zeke Bratkowski, quarterback of the Los Angeles Rams and defending champion, had a 45-43—88.

A Month Makes A Lot Of Difference In Boat Population On San Pablo

STEVENS

What a difference a month makes. Thirty days ago, when driving along the highway off the San Pablo Bay shore you'd need an adding machine to count the boats, cruisers and skiffs, all the way from Point Pinole to the Carquinez Bridge. Monday afternoon it required the aid of a telescope to find any craft anchored and fishing.

Not that the fish have left the region. On Sunday, the Dowrelio No. 5, with a very small party came in with five nice bass to 17 pounds, and the Happy Days No. 3, with Johnny Sivera at the helm docked his half frozen customers with nine fish for his small party. Top fish was a 17½-pounder.

It may not be true, but I have it on good authority that most of the fish taken over the weekend wore mittens and earflaps. Perhaps one reason so few fish are being taken lately is because, on the party boats, the anglers gang up in the cabin and wait for a fish to impale himself on the unattended hooks.

IT HASN'T been exactly welcome weather on the steelhead streams, but, like in a crowded but unheated room, the close proximity of human to human furnishes enough heat to prevent one freezing to death. According to my faithful contact man, Everett Elrod, the banks of the Russian River from Mirabell Park upstream resembled a close order drill or a St. Patrick's Day parade. Cheek to jowel they stood, all on edge for that preliminary nudge at bait or lure that indicated a fish was looking things over. The frequent cries of "Fish On" kept the hardy hopefuls ever on the alert. Yeah, gentle reader, the Russian River lived up to its advance publicity. Lots of fish were taken, and still more will be taken during this first week in 1962. As of this writing, the river is at normal height and is rapidly becoming a bit too clear for bait. If you plan on trying the Russian, take along some flies and spinners.

Other Coast streams, especially those within an easy drive from the Bay Area, produced less fish than the Russian, and according to reports were about as heavily fished. Rain, light or heavy has become a must for good results in the Loop streams. But some good runs have come in and the expert fly fisherman will average out quite well.

IT'S ALWAYS pleasant to learn of an individual or a party who hits the jackpot these final days of duck season. Nine out of ten nimrods have made the ring with lamentations over the dearth of ducks.

But not C. B. "Tan" Tanquary of East Oakland. Tan raved over the ultra successful trip he made a few days ago in the Los Banos sector. Took limits of big birds in short order. I asked Tan if he didn't nearly freeze, sitting in a barrel blind. He said no. His fingers got a bit chilled, but his feet stayed warm. Then he became confidential. "You see, Steve," he said, "I have a system that never fails. I wear a pair of silk socks under my cotton ones, and my feet never get too cold."

I'll have to try that sometime.

Sooners Cited For Comeback Of Year

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Oklahoma Sooners, for years a terror of the college gridiron, made the greatest comeback of the 1961 season, according to sports writers and sportscasters balloting in the annual Associated Press year-end football poll.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Oklahomans, who won only three games, lost six and tied one in 1960, started the 1961 campaign in extremely low gear. The Sooners were defeated in order by Notre Dame, Iowa State, Texas, Kansas and Colorado for the longest losing streak in the school's history. They had lost nine of their last 10 games.

Then they began their comeback, and playing like the Oklahoma powerhouses of old, won their last five games for a 5-5 season. The Sooners beat Kansas State, upset Missouri 7-0, stunned Army 14-8, and finished off against Nebraska and Oklahoma State. The word is out that Oklahoma must be reckoned with in 1962 after Wilkinson's rebuilding efforts.

Oklahoma led the balloting with 36 votes, while Notre Dame was next with 25. Louisiana State and Minnesota were tied for third with 19 votes each. Kansas had 17, and Columbia 10. Votes went to 36 colleges in the "comeback" category.

Notre Dame, with its usual suicide schedule, also came back strong with a 5-5 record after finishing 1960 even worse than Oklahoma. The 1960 Irish won two and dropped eight games.

For Louisiana State and Minnesota, it was a case of getting away poorly, but recovering quickly. Rice knocked off LSU in the season opener, but the Tigers, who were 5-4-1 in 1960, rebounded to win their next nine games and went into the Orange Bowl where they clobbered Colorado 25-7.

Minnesota, although national champion last year, was not highly rated at season's start and it appeared dark after the Gophers dropped their opener to Missouri 6-0. But Murray Warmath's Gophers reeled off seven straight, and after being upset by Wisconsin, went on to the Rose Bowl to wreck UCLA 21-3.

STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — When Trinity College's football team held Franklin and Marshall scoreless, it marked the first time the Bantams had shut out a gridiron foe since 1958.

Trinity's previous whitewash was applied to Williams, 12-0, three years ago.

Rosters Up For NBA All-Star Tilt

NEW YORK (AP) — Rosters were completed today for the annual National Basketball Association All-Star Game with the addition of six players to the West team. The game will be played at St. Louis, Jan. 16.

Jack Twyman and Wayne Embry of Cincinnati, Cliff Hagan of St. Louis, Bailey Howell and Gene Shue of Detroit and Frank Selvy of Los Angeles were named to the West squad in a vote of league coaches.

They will join the West's first five, picked in a poll of NBA writers and sportscasters —Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of Los Angeles, Bob Pettit of St. Louis, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Walt Bellamy of Chicago.

For the 11-man East team Bob Cousy and Tom Heinsohn of Boston, Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia, Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Richie Guerin of New York were chosen as starters. The squad was completed with Paul Arizin and Tom Gola of Philadelphia, Willie Naulls of New York, Bill Russell of Boston and Hal Greer and Larry Costello of Syracuse.

Red Auerbach of Boston will coach the East team and Fred Schaus of Los Angeles will handle the West.

Golf's Greatest Players Vie In L.A. Open Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golf's greatest players hit the rich money trail today in a $5,000 professional-celebrity prelude to the $45,000 Los Angeles Open.

The 72-hole main show gets under way tomorrow in this 36th annual winter classic as the pros launch a $2 million dollar tournament campaign for 1962. The setting again is the Rancho Municipal Golf Club which has par 36-35-71 for its 7,000-yard course.

It was on the ninth hole in the first round a year ago that Palmer knocked four balls out of bounds and wound up with an atrocious seven-over par 12.

The former National Open and Masters champion is back again, along with man who beat him out of the 1961 money-winning title, Gary Player of South Africa.

Special interest centers on the professional tournament debut of 1961 amateur champion Jack Nicklaus. The Ohio State University star finished second and fourth in the last two national opens.

Also entered is current U.S. open champion Gene Littler, who won the Los Angeles Open on this same course in 1955.

Little but long-hitting Jerry Barber, who stepped out of his club teaching job in Los Angeles long enough last year to capture the initial PGA title, is also a threat.

Defending L.A. open champion Bob Goalby is back. Last year Goalby had rounds of 67-70-71-67-275 to win the $7,500 first money by three strokes over Art Wall Jr. and Eric Brown of England.

Today's pro-celebrity pairings provided gallery interest.

Palmer was booked in a foursome that included Jockey Willie Shoemaker and bandleader Lawrence Welk. Shoemaker gets to play golf this week because the Santa Anita race track stewards set him down for a riding infraction.

Player, who won $68,377 last year in prize money, teamed with Bob Reynolds and Leonard K. Firestone, co-owners of the Los Angeles Angels baseball club.

Registration Set For 3rd Quarter

Redwood High School in Larkspur will begin the third quarter of its recreation program Saturday at the school's gymnasium, announced Richard Hart, recreation director.

Registration will be held on that day — the first day of classes — between 9 a.m. and 12 p.m., said Hart. The third quarter will be open to youngsters in the fourth to the seventh grade. Registration fee is 50 cents with the new quarter concluding in March. Classes will be Saturdays at the gym from 9 to noon.

For girls, the classes will include folk dancing, baton twirling, trampoline and Volley Ball; for boys, wrestling, basketball, trampoline and volley ball.

Ramsey Fired As Coach Of Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Garrard (Buster) Ramsey, head coach of the Buffalo Bills during the two years of its operations in the American Football League, was fired today.

Ramsey, a former star lineman with the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League, was let go following a conference last night in Detroit with president Ralph Wilson, it was announced.

Seals Ace Named On All-Star Team

The eight defensemen who will represent the Northern and Southern division teams in the Western Hockey League All-Star game have been chosen.

The contest will be played Jan. 8 at Portland.

Leading the blue line corps for the Southern Division will be Ron Matthews of Portland and Ralph Keller of the Los Angeles Blades. They will be backed up by Spokane's Alex Hucul and Jim Hay of San Francisco.

The North will start Fred Hucul and Doug Barkley, both of Calgary, backed by Frank Arnett of Seattle and Lloyd Haddon of Edmonton.

Rejuvenated Saints Hit The Road

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's rejuvenated Saints travel to Cleveland today for a tomorrow night American Basketball League game with the Cleveland Pipers.

The Saints beat Western Division-leading Kansas City 102-99 last night in a hectic contest that saw the lead change hands 10 times in the final quarter.

It was San Francisco's first victory over Kansas City in six meetings.

Ken Sears sank two free throws with 57 seconds remaining and put the Saints ahead 100-99. Gene Brown capped the victory with a 15-foot jump shot with five seconds remaining.

At this point an unidentified teen-ager halted the proceedings by stealing the ball during a Kansas City time out and running off down a corridor. The final five seconds were played with a new ball.

U.S. Gal On Doubles Team To Win Opener

The score was 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

The eight defensemen who will represent the Northern and Southern division teams in the Western Hockey League All-Star game have been chosen.

The contest will be played Jan. 8 at Portland.

Leading the blue line corps for the Southern Division will be Ron Matthews of Portland and Ralph Keller of the Los Angeles Blades. They will be backed up by Spokane's Alex Hucul and Jim Hay of San Francisco.

The North will start Fred Hucul and Doug Barkley, both of Calgary, backed by Frank Arnett of Seattle and Lloyd Haddon of Edmonton.

Rejuvenated Saints Hit The Road

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's rejuvenated Saints travel to Cleveland today for a tomorrow night American Basketball League game with the Cleveland Pipers.

The Saints beat Western Division-leading Kansas City 102-99 last night in a hectic contest that saw the lead change hands 10 times in the final quarter.

It was San Francisco's first victory over Kansas City in six meetings.

Ken Sears sank two free throws with 57 seconds remaining and put the Saints ahead 100-99. Gene Brown capped the victory with a 15-foot jump shot with five seconds remaining.

At this point an unidentified teen-ager halted the proceedings by stealing the ball during a Kansas City time out and running off down a corridor. The final five seconds were played with a new ball.

U.S. Gal On Doubles Team To Win Opener

The score was 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Yanks Over Bums In World Series

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Best bets in sports for 1962:

Pennant Races — New York Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers with the Yankees repeating as world champs. The Dodgers, blessed with quantity, are likely to survive the expansion pains as did the Yankees last season. Furthermore, they've seen the last of that monstrous temporary haven, the Los Angeles Coliseum. That's real inspiration.

Major League Batting — The pitchers spent all of 1961 trying to find ways of stopping Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh and Norm Cash of Detroit. They didn't—and probably won't in '62.

Home Runs—Orlando Cepeda of the Giants to make a big run at Babe Ruth's record 60-in-154 games as the National League expands to 10 teams; Roger Maris to outblast Mickey Mantle again, since Mickey is handed far more bases on balls. But the two Yankees may not be as sensational as last year with A.L. pitching perhaps a shade better.

Kentucky Derby — Crimson Satan and Ridan are the popular favorites at this point but a fella we know says, "Take Donut King."

College Football — Louisiana State, returning good material, has a dandy chance.

Pro Football — Green Bay over the Eagles in the National League; third act in the American League, Houston over San Diego.

Leading Pitchers — Well, there's always Warren Spahn in the National League; and for most victories in the American League, how about Frank Lary of the Tigers?

Worst Major League Team—Even with the Phillies in the league, it has to be one of the National's new babies, New York or Houston. Make it Houston since the New York club is going with older players to make a quicker showing.

Hockey—Montreal.

Pro Basketball—Boston Celtics, best in the business, are better than ever in the National Association this year; the Kansas City Steers are making like the Celtics in the new American League.

Tennis—Australia to retain the Davis cup with the United States making it into the challenge round for the first time since '59.

Most Times Hit By Pitcher—Minnie Minoso of the Cardinals, who'll try his "skill" in the National League this year.

Most Times Striking Out — Jake Wood of the Tigers beats out Mantle in the American League; Dick Stuart of the Pirates in the National.

Baseball Attendance—Yankees and Tigers to run 1-2 not only in the American League but for both leagues.

Sure To Happen Along The Way—Some expert will insist the 1962 baseball is livelier than ever; Eddie Arcaro will be booed for finishing fifth on an odds-on favorite that wouldn't be favored without Arcaro; one or more major league managers will be fired before the halfway mark; a holiday doubleheader will be rained out.

And the best bet of all — Don't bet on the other guy's best bets.

CONFERENCE BASKETBALL TO BEGIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — As conference basketball play neared its start this week, there was praise for those often unsung stalwarts, the play makers.

Coach Bob Feerick of the Santa Clara Broncos, a team with an 11-1 record and favorites in the West Coast Athletic Conference, said one big reason the loop has such balance is that each has solid leadership.

He mentioned Barry Cristina of his Broncos, Bob Baillard of the University of San Francisco, Jerry Grote of Loyola, Tom Sheridan of St. Mary's, Bill Yonge of San Jose State, and Jack Schalow of University of the Pacific.

Cristina and forward Steve Gray of St. Mary's were voted the Players of the Week at the meeting of the Northern California Basketball Writers and Broadcasters Association. Both were standouts in last week's WCAC Tournament won by Santa Clara with a 48-42 victory over St. Mary's in the finals.

Conference play starts this week with San Jose State at USF tonight. On Saturday night, St. Mary's plays at Pacific and USF at Santa Clara.

California's Bears open their Big Five Conference season with a pair at Los Angeles against Southern California tomorrow and Saturday nights. Stanford hosts Oregon those nights in non-conference affairs.

Coach Rene Herrerias of California, whose club lost its opener in the Far West Classic at Portland to Washington State and then beat Michigan and Michigan State, said his young club played well in the final pair. He termed junior Don Lauer the outstanding tourney player for California.

The WCAC coaches were in agreement that Santa Clara is the team to beat for the conference title and Feerick didn't take exception. But he said, "I'm happy the way things have been going. I have a feeling we haven't played our best ball and I feel we're going to get better."

The coach said veterans Joe Weiss and Gene Shields still haven't completely shaken off the effects of flu suffered last month.

CONNOLLY

If you were Horce Stoneham, owner of the S.F. Giants, what salary would you offer Orlando Cepeda?

To help you get started and to give you a lift in such a ticklish job, Cepeda was earning $7,500 a season when he arrived in 1958 with the Giants. Before the season was over and voluntarily, owner Stoneham hoisted his pay $5,000.

Each season since 1958, Cepeda's salary has jumped until he was earning $27,500 at the close of the 1961 campaign. A pretty good stipend for 154 games in the play-for-pay racket.

Cepeda's salary would be of no concern if it wasn't for the fact that on the same club with him is a fellow named Willie Mays, collecting, or so they say, around $90,000 per season.

Last year Cepeda outhit Mays to lead the club in batting as well as lead the league in home-runs with 41. So we come to the big question.

WHAT IS Cepeda worth?

Everybody connected with professional baseball knows Willie Mays has been the greatest drawing card with the Giants, maybe not in San Francisco, but on the road, for sure.

Mays and his circus catches, his sensational base running, fielding and throwing is unequalled by any player in any league.

It has taken Willie Mays 11 years to snatch the top salary. He deserves it. If he were with the Yankees and performing as he does with the Giants. I'd say his salary would be well over the $100,000 mark.

BUT LET'S take the case of Cepeda after five years. He is faced now with setting a price on his services that may or may not be agreeable. I say it is the most delicate problem Orlando has to solve. And it is just as tough on management who face much the same task as Orlando.

To double Cepeda's salary to $55,000 a season would be terrific—unheard of in the annals of organized baseball. But to offer him much less could irk the fans and bring down their wrath on owner Stoneham.

So we say the toughest project the Giants face is not only pleasing Cepeda's wage demands but satisfying the cash customer, who after all pays all the freight.

But to double Cepeda's salary could mean a barrel of head aches for management who have to consider the worthiness of such athletes as Stu Miller, Jimmy Davenport, Jose Pagan and so many others who go to make up "the team" and who want raises.

IN THE DAYS of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame there were FOUR STARS, and seven mules. But with the Giants and the atomic age we find two nuclear fellows and about 23 hard working mules who are badly needed to "window dress" the club that displays Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda.

So go ahead and guess Cepeda's salary. I'll say he will be given the biggest raise any player in organized baseball ever got in a single season.

By OSCAR FRALEY

Two years ago, this being 1962, Palmer was the hottest item in golf since invention of the steel shaft. He was the leading money winner in the game but, more important, he captured both the U.S. Open golf championship and the coveted Masters.

All he made last year was money.

"Now wait a minute," Palmer cautions, " I won the British Open last year and that's one of the big four."

There was a time. But not any more. The British Open today is strictly for the boys from Kokomo, the prestige seekers who can't make it on the big time and go abroad to knock off a flock of patsies and trade on the prestige of the past. But the truth is that the British Open today attracts only those who couldn't finish among the top 20 on the U.S. pro golf tour.

HOGAN EXCEPTION

Exceptions have been Ben Hogan, who won it on his only shot; Sam Snead, who captured it the only time he tried, and Palmer, who finished second by one shot in a rain-swept fluke the first time and went right back to knock it off. Yet the ease of their accomplishments merely serve to prove that it has become a cheap, grab-bag contest in which competition is at a minimum.

Palmer, despite his rich divot digging in which he participated last year, now has come to realize that he no longer can satisfy himself with "British Open victories."

"I know that my game has gone to pot," he admitted after an exhibition round over his new country club of Miami course in which he could do no better than finish in a third place tie with spanking new pro Jack Nicklaus. "I've just been doing too much other stuff. My game has had to suffer."

This was an admission that he had become like Oscar of the Waldorf working at a hamburger stand; like Eddie Arcaro exercising cleap platers, or Picasso painting murals on the walls of cheap saloons — simply because the price was right.

"I'm turning by back on all this other stuff," Palmer insisted. "Right now I'm going out to get my game in shape and I'm setting my sights on the big tournaments."

COVETS PGA

"If there is one tournament I want to win, I'd guess I'd have to say it was the P.G.A.," frowned the handsome Pennsylvanian. "That's because I've never won it, and it's considered one of the big ones.

"But," he smiled boyishly, "I want them all—in one year."

Meaning that he still entertains the big dream, that of scoring the "big slam" nobody else ever has even thought about.

"Why not?" he asked. "If this is your business, you've got to dream of winning the open, the P.G.A., the Masters and the British Open all in one year."

And Palmer finally has absorbed the idea that nobody, not even a man with his almost matchless talents, can accomplish this fairway feat without turning his back on the money vaults and playing as if he was starving.

"I'm starting right now," he promised grimly. "I'm putting all this behind me, the easy living, the collaring of those beckoning dollars and the outside interests. That's in my agents hands now. I'm going back to work with the sticks.

"It's not as far away as you might think," he replied. "After all, I won the Vardon Trophy last year with a low tournament scoring average of 69.-75 strokes per round. But it's not enough."

It isn't, either. Arnold Palmer is the man who according to the evidence at hand, was born to replace Hogan and take the next niche in the line of the golfing immortals. He is fortunate to have realized soon enough that money isn't the total answer.

Mrs. Arthur Sears of Novato has been elected captain of the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club. Co-Captain is Mrs. Lynn Sumpter. Others elected to serve on the board are Mrs. Harold Burnell, secretary, Mrs. William Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Andrew Mahony, tournament chairman, Mrs. William Sparrow, assistant tournament chairman.

Mrs. George Nolan, handicap chairman, Mrs. Torc Bedeyan, assistant handicapper; Mrs. Jerry Evans, publicity; Mrs. William Mays, North Bay Women's Golf Assn. representative; Mrs. Charles Bennett, Pacific Women Golfers Assn. representative; rules chairman, Mrs. Roy Sayles, and committee of Mrs. Ernest Korn and Mrs. Rowe Waller.

The Spring handicap, Rosehill, Captain's and club championship tournament will be held again this year. An invitational is being planned in September.

AFL Caller Says All-Star Game Will Be Air Battle

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Sunday's American Football League All-Star Game will be an aerial battle, quarterback Jack Kemp of the San Diego Chargers says.

Kemp will share hurling duties for the Western Division All-Stars with Cotton Davidson of the Dallas Texans.

"We'll loosen them up with our fine runners," Kemp said. "But the ball will be in the air a lot because of the great receivers we have as targets.

The targets, say Coach Sid Gillman, will be speedy Lionel Taylor of Denver and Dave Kocourek of San Diego.

Keeping the ball in the air for the Eastern Division All-Stars of Coach Wally Lemm will be George Blanda of Houston and Al Dorow of New Dorow of New York.

Mrs. George Nolan, handicap chairman, Mrs. Torc Bedeyan, assistant handicapper; Mrs. Jerry Evans, publicity; Mrs. William Mays, North Bay Women's Golf Assn. representative; Mrs. Charles Bennett, Pacific Women Golfers Assn. representative; rules chairman, Mrs. Roy Sayles, and committee of Mrs. Ernest Korn and Mrs. Rowe Waller.

The Spring handicap, Rosehill, Captain's and club championship tournament will be held again this year. An invitational is being planned in September.

AFL Caller Says All-Star Game Will Be Air Battle

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Sunday's American Football League All-Star Game will be an aerial battle, quarterback Jack Kemp of the San Diego Chargers says.

Kemp will share hurling duties for the Western Division All-Stars with Cotton Davidson of the Dallas Texans.

"We'll loosen them up with our fine runners," Kemp said. "But the ball will be in the air a lot because of the great receivers we have as targets.

The targets, say Coach Sid Gillman, will be speedy Lionel Taylor of Denver and Dave Kocourek of San Diego.

Keeping the ball in the air for the Eastern Division All-Stars of Coach Wally Lemm will be George Blanda of Houston and Al Dorow of New Dorow of New York.

at Ross Valley Savings
grow like daisies!

You often hear the phrase, "Buy now, Pay later", but more and more people are discovering that it pays to "Save now, Buy later".

Thus, the difference between saving and borrowing could be 22½%—or even more.

*Credited four times a year!

So start your Ross Valley Savings program today! No need to bring your funds personally. Just use our Save-By-Mail plan — and pay yourself when you pay your bills. You'll be amazed how fast your dollars grow. For example, $25 a month becomes $968.59 at the end of three years — $3,790.75 in ten years; $100 a month becomes $15,163.00 in ten years.

TAXPAYERS TO GET AN EXTRA 24-HOUR BREAK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxpayers will get an extra 24 hours this year in which to prepare their federal income tax returns.

Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, said that because of the normal filing deadline of April 15 is a Sunday this year, the deadline will be extended until midnight Monday, April 16.

By law, returns must be received at IRS offices before the deadline. In practice, the bureau recognizes as timely any return postmarked by midnight of the final day.

Canada's Atomic Business Doing Well

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian government is in the business of making atomic machines—and business is good.

Forty salesmen seek markets for the Commercial Products Division of Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd., owned by the people. Products are sold in 57 countries. Export sales this fiscal year are expected to exceed four million dollars.

The main revenue producer is the cobalt-60 beam therapy unit, a machine developed in Canada in 1951 to treat cancer patients. Canada at one time had the world market to itself for these machines. It now competes with 20 producers, mainly in the United States, Britain, Italy, Japan and West Germany.

Since its establishment in 1952, the division has sold 258 therapy units in 39 countries. The United States has been the best customer, taking 92 machines. The mainland Chinese have bought seven, the Soviet Union two and Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Poland one apiece.

Equipment for subjecting materials to gamma radiation also is sold, along with isotopes used in industry, medicine, agriculture and research.

STATE FORECAST

Huge Lawmaker Turnover Seen

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
(Second in a series)

SACRAMENTO (AP)—No matter which side wins, the 1962 election will see the greatest turnover of all time in the ranks of California lawmakers.

At least 30 of the 80 assemblymen may not be back for a variety of reasons. They've gotten better jobs, or they hope to; they were reapportioned out of their districts, or they're just plain retiring. One died.

The Assembly, with a new speaker installed already, will have a majority leader and a new minority leader.

There'll be a new look to the state's Congressional delegation as well. Eight more members will go to Washington next year, giving California a total of 38.

Only 20 of the 40 state senators are up for election, and no major upheaval is anticipated. Assemblymen serve two years, senators four.

Congress—16 Democrats, 14 Republicans.

All the odds favor continued Democratic majorities. In fact, Democrats are hopeful of picking up some six or eight assemblymen and a minimum of eight congressmen.

Keep this in mind: the state's registration remains heavily Democratic. And, with the Democrats calling the shots, the 1961 reapportionment of legislative districts naturally favors Democratic candidates.

In the shifting of districts to conform with population changes, San Francisco and Alameda counties are losing one assemblyman apiece. Santa Clara, Orange and San Diego each gain one.

Two Sacramento Valley districts and Monterey-Santa Cruz have been consolidated.

Ten years before, the Republican legislature reapportioned the state; the GOP won 19 of 30 congressmen even though the statewide vote ran 52 per cent Democratic.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown predicts his party will elect anywhere from 24 to 28 congressmen. Republicans, with 14 incumbents as a base, refuse to concede any such result. And they've assigned a high priority to efforts to regain lost seats in the Assembly.

Whatever the outcome, it's definitely the year of the big turnover for the Assembly.

Speaker Ralph M. Brown (D-Modesto) resigned to become an appellate court judge in Fresno. He was succeeded by Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

Majority Leader William A. Munnell (D-Montebello) quit for a Superior Court judgeship in Los Angeles. Minority Leader Joseph C. Shell (R-Los Angeles) is running for governor.

Augustus F. Hawkins (D-Los Angeles), chairman of the Assembly Rules Committee and dean of the legislature in point of service, is a candidate for Congress from one of the new Los Angeles districts. He was first elected to the Assembly in 1934.

Thirteen others have their eyes on Congress.

In Fairfax They Now Say Si, Si

Even the pupils joined in the Fairfax Elementary School District's foreign language curriculum session at Manor School Tuesday night—and their Hispanic conversations demonstrated the practical value of the language course.

More than 30 interested parents attended the presentation by Bruce McDonald, principal of Fairfax and Deer Park elementary schools.

Seventh grade students presented the language demonstration, led by McDonald and Helen Hough, seventh grade teacher.

McDonald said Spanish was selected for the curriculum on the basis of parents' interest, teacher availability, opportunity for continual study, and the community's cultural background.

Fairfax district teachers attended extension courses at San Francisco State College during the 1960-61 school year. Next month, they will enter a new methods course.

Spanish now is offered all children of the district, from kindergarten through the eighth grade, with instruction in each case carried on by the regular classroom teacher. As a result the Spanish teaching can be directed to other learning activities also, McDonald noted.

Kaiser Leases Back Building Recently Sold

Kaiser Industries today leased back for its own use a building it recently sold for approximately 1.5 million dollars.

The new year's largest purchase - and - lease-back transaction to date was handled by First of California Mortgage Co., which represented both parties — Kaiser Industries in the 1.5 million dollar sale and 20-year lease-back, and the Royal Neighbors of America, a large fraternal insurance organization, in the purchase and later, the leasing, of the 1920 Broadway Building in downtown Oakland.

First of California's extensive real estate financing includes the mortgage financing of a number of new apartment buildings in Marin County. It has an office in San Rafael.

State's Date Crop

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's date crop yielded cash receipts of $3,120,000 in 1961, the State Bureau of Agricultural Statistics reports. The total was up about 4 million dollars from 1960 returns.

Drunken Driver Loses License, Draws Fine

A San Anselmo driver must spend five days in jail, pay $276 fine and lose his license for six months because of his second drunken offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Larry Allen Vivier, 24, of 314 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo for driving while intoxicated along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax last Nov. 23. He had a prior conviction in April of 1956.

Joan Edgerton Grigg Will Again Present 'Les Petites Ballerines'

Ten months ago when the doctor told her she could not dance again, nor teach the classic ballet she loved so much, Joan Edgerton Grigg carefully followed every prescribed rule of rest and medication to recuperate from the sudden illness which struck last March.

A slow but sure convalescence at her home in Larkspur gave her time to reflect upon her 14 year teacher career in Mill Valley, where her pupils were enrolled as "Les Petite Ballerines."

For 10 years of that period under the sponsorship of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley, Joan Edgerton Grigg presented Ballet performances at the club with annual awards in music scholarships, nurses scholarships and five ballet scholarships for Marin students to the San Francisco Ballet.

Later she danced with the San Francisco Ballet Company for five years under the direction of William Christensen, performing in many of the operas.

Ballet performances continued at the San Francisco Opera House, Sigmund Stern Grove and in Marin's Forrest Meadows in the Ballet Coppelia. She also appeared in the opera Vivaldi under direction of Lew Christensen of the San Francisco Ballet Company.

This week, nearly a year after her sudden illness, Joan Edgerton Grigg announced the re-opening of "Les Petite Ballerinas" at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley in January, where many of her former pupils will resume classical ballet and perform in Joan Grigg's compositions.

Marinites Will Attend Conference

Four Marinites will attend the state-wide Interim Executive Committee meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in San Francisco on Jan. 12-13.

Attending in official capacities will be Mesdames Jean Lestanguet of Fairfax, Walter F. Johnson, San Anselmo, Francis M. Fugate, Corte Madera, and Delbert C. Brown, San Rafael.

Presenting final plans for the American Legion Auxiliary's annual Girls State Sessions in practical government training at the Davis campus of the University of California will be Mrs. Johnson, state chairman of the Girls State program for 1962. The program, now in its 19th year, saw 490 high school girls attending last year, and the figure is expected to run slightly higher, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Brown of San Rafael will attend the two-day meeting by virtue of her past post as past state president of the Amercian Legion Auxiliary in 1955.

Covering plans for the balance of the year affecting the California Auxiliary News, the state house organ, will be given in her editor's report by Mrs. Fugate.

Special emphasis will be given the $80,000 John Morton Cold War Briefing Room at Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., to which Marin units are pledging donations through their Americanism program.

Save Leftovers

Save those tiny leftovers of soap. Tie them in a soft piece of flannel and dip them in boiling water until they're soft. Then place them in cold water until firm and you've a good solid ball of soap.

First Lady Heads The Best Dressed List

The New York Couture Group, which conducts the annual best-dressed poll among 2,000 fashion experts, added two other new names to the 1961 list. They were Mme. Herve Alphand, wife of the French ambassador to the United States, and Mrs. Uberto Agnelli, a member of the Italian family which manufactures Fiat cars.

Making room for the newcomers on the list of the most chic dozen were actress Audrey Hepburn and Mrs. Norman K. Winston, wife of a New York real estate developer, both of whom were elevated to the group's permanent fashion hall of fame. Mrs. Winston was the former Rosita Halfpenny Greenway of Oklahoma Cherokee Indian ancestry.

Two women among 1960's best dressed were dropped from the list—Mrs. Stavros Niarchos of the Greek shipping family and Mrs. Patrick Guinness of the Irish stout-brewing family.

The other winners of the fashion world's highest accolade, all repeats from the 1960 list, were:

—Mrs. Gloria Rubio Guinness, Mexican-born wife of banker Loel Guinness of the brewing family. She is often described as the world's most elegant woman and was second to Mrs. Kennedy in the voting.

—Donna Marella Agnelli, wife of Gianni Agnelli of the Turin automotive family.

—Princess Alexandra of Kent. Her mother, Princess Marina of Kent, and her cousin, Queen Elizabeth II, are both in the fashion hall of fame.

Jayne Larkin Wrightsman, just slightly older than Mrs. Kennedy, loaned her Palm Beach Estate to the Kennedys last June and is a member of the first lady's committee to furnish the White House with authentic antiques.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Radcliffe College's President To Be Honored In Belvedere

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mrs. Mary I. Bunting, new president of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., will be honored at a buffet dinner Jan. 8 at the Belvedere home of Mrs. Ira Markwett. Mrs. August Jonas will be a co-hostess. This will be Mrs. Bunting's first visit west since her appointment. Also honored at the dinner will be Thaddeus Beal of the Radcliffe board of trustees.

MRS. BUNTING

The new president of the famous women's college has had honorary degrees bestowed on her by Harvard, Wheaton, Smith, Douglass and Goucher. She is the mother of four. She has aroused nationwide interest because of her newly-launched Institute for Independent Study, designed for gifted women with a doctorate or equivalent in achievement, whose careers have been interrupted by marriage. She is working on a house plan for Radcliffe, similar to the one at Harvard, designed to bring students and faculty members closer together.

Among those invited to the dinner are Messrs. and Mesdames John M. Bridgman, Robert E. Burns, Clement Hurd, Joseph C. Marshall, Robert B. Sheeks, Mesdames Richard Y. Dakin and Esther C. Whitman of Marin; Messrs. and Mesdames John Bolles, James Frankel, Mrs. Florence Erskine Gantner and Miss Priscilla Wilson of San Francisco. Messrs. and Mesdames Marvin Chodorow, Thomas Moser, Arthur Hislop and Mr. Lloyd Allen will form the contingent from the Peninsula. Among the East Bay guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Levenson, Leon Mandelson and Miss Revilla Wright.

FROM ROME Noble Hamilton Jr. of Ross received a cable Tuesday from his sister, Betty, telling of her marriage that day to Eugene Shurtleff of Orinda. The bride, daughter of Mrs. Noble Hamilton of San Francisco and the late Mr. Hamilton, flew to Italy to join Mr. Shurtleff who has been vacationing in Europe for several weeks with his daughter, Kathy Shurtleff, who attends Mr. Vernon College, in Washington D.C. Both Kathy and her sister, Christine Shurtleff, who is on a trip around the world, were present for the nuptial vow exchange. The bridegroom is also the father of Robert Shurtleff, stationed by the Navy in San Diego.

The bride is a graduate of University of California where she was a Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her husband, also a UC graduate, is the brother of Mrs. G. Willard Miller of Piedmont and Lawton Shurtleff of Lafayette. He served with the Navy during World War II and is associated with his father, Roy Shurtleff, at Blyth and Co.

The newlyweds will fly back to California Sunday and reside in Orinda.

AT RANCHO DE LOS CABALLEROS, Wickenburg, Ariz., Miss Lucile Dandelet of San Anselmo vacationed for a week. While she enjoyed riding, swimming and tennis on the ranch, she found skeet a new and interesting sport. On her first 25 shots, she scored 11 including one double.

Ten months ago when the doctor told her she could not dance again, nor teach the classic ballet she loved so much, Joan Edgerton Grigg carefully followed every prescribed rule of rest and medication to recuperate from the sudden illness which struck last March.

A slow but sure convalescence at her home in Larkspur gave her time to reflect upon her 14 year teacher career in Mill Valley, where her pupils were enrolled as "Les Petite Ballerines."

For 10 years of that period under the sponsorship of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley, Joan Edgerton Grigg presented Ballet performances at the club with annual awards in music scholarships, nurses scholarships and five ballet scholarships for Marin students to the San Francisco Ballet.

Later she danced with the San Francisco Ballet Company for five years under the direction of William Christensen, performing in many of the operas.

Ballet performances continued at the San Francisco Opera House, Sigmund Stern Grove and in Marin's Forrest Meadows in the Ballet Coppelia. She also appeared in the opera Vivaldi under direction of Lew Christensen of the San Francisco Ballet Company.

This week, nearly a year after her sudden illness, Joan Edgerton Grigg announced the re-opening of "Les Petite Ballerinas" at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley in January, where many of her former pupils will resume classical ballet and perform in Joan Grigg's compositions.

Marinites Will Attend Conference

Four Marinites will attend the state-wide Interim Executive Committee meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in San Francisco on Jan. 12-13.

Attending in official capacities will be Mesdames Jean Lestanguet of Fairfax, Walter F. Johnson, San Anselmo, Francis M. Fugate, Corte Madera, and Delbert C. Brown, San Rafael.

Presenting final plans for the American Legion Auxiliary's annual Girls State Sessions in practical government training at the Davis campus of the University of California will be Mrs. Johnson, state chairman of the Girls State program for 1962. The program, now in its 19th year, saw 490 high school girls attending last year, and the figure is expected to run slightly higher, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Brown of San Rafael will attend the two-day meeting by virtue of her past post as past state president of the Amercian Legion Auxiliary in 1955.

Covering plans for the balance of the year affecting the California Auxiliary News, the state house organ, will be given in her editor's report by Mrs. Fugate.

Special emphasis will be given the $80,000 John Morton Cold War Briefing Room at Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., to which Marin units are pledging donations through their Americanism program.

Save Leftovers

Save those tiny leftovers of soap. Tie them in a soft piece of flannel and dip them in boiling water until they're soft. Then place them in cold water until firm and you've a good solid ball of soap.

First Lady Heads The Best Dressed List

The New York Couture Group, which conducts the annual best-dressed poll among 2,000 fashion experts, added two other new names to the 1961 list. They were Mme. Herve Alphand, wife of the French ambassador to the United States, and Mrs. Uberto Agnelli, a member of the Italian family which manufactures Fiat cars.

Making room for the newcomers on the list of the most chic dozen were actress Audrey Hepburn and Mrs. Norman K. Winston, wife of a New York real estate developer, both of whom were elevated to the group's permanent fashion hall of fame. Mrs. Winston was the former Rosita Halfpenny Greenway of Oklahoma Cherokee Indian ancestry.

Two women among 1960's best dressed were dropped from the list—Mrs. Stavros Niarchos of the Greek shipping family and Mrs. Patrick Guinness of the Irish stout-brewing family.

The other winners of the fashion world's highest accolade, all repeats from the 1960 list, were:

—Mrs. Gloria Rubio Guinness, Mexican-born wife of banker Loel Guinness of the brewing family. She is often described as the world's most elegant woman and was second to Mrs. Kennedy in the voting.

—Donna Marella Agnelli, wife of Gianni Agnelli of the Turin automotive family.

—Princess Alexandra of Kent. Her mother, Princess Marina of Kent, and her cousin, Queen Elizabeth II, are both in the fashion hall of fame.

Jayne Larkin Wrightsman, just slightly older than Mrs. Kennedy, loaned her Palm Beach Estate to the Kennedys last June and is a member of the first lady's committee to furnish the White House with authentic antiques.

Radcliffe College's President To Be Honored In Belvedere

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mrs. Mary I. Bunting, new president of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., will be honored at a buffet dinner Jan. 8 at the Belvedere home of Mrs. Ira Markwett. Mrs. August Jonas will be a co-hostess. This will be Mrs. Bunting's first visit west since her appointment. Also honored at the dinner will be Thaddeus Beal of the Radcliffe board of trustees.

The new president of the famous women's college has had honorary degrees bestowed on her by Harvard, Wheaton, Smith, Douglass and Goucher. She is the mother of four. She has aroused nationwide interest because of her newly-launched Institute for Independent Study, designed for gifted women with a doctorate or equivalent in achievement, whose careers have been interrupted by marriage. She is working on a house plan for Radcliffe, similar to the one at Harvard, designed to bring students and faculty members closer together.

MRS. BUNTING

Among those invited to the dinner are Messrs. and Mesdames John M. Bridgman, Robert E. Burns, Clement Hurd, Joseph C. Marshall, Robert B. Sheeks, Mesdames Richard Y. Dakin and Esther C. Whitman of Marin; Messrs. and Mesdames John Bolles, James Frankel, Mrs. Florence Erskine Gantner and Miss Priscilla Wilson of San Francisco. Messrs. and Mesdames Marvin Chodorow, Thomas Moser, Arthur Hislop and Mr. Lloyd Allen will form the contingent from the Peninsula. Among the East Bay guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Levenson, Leon Mandelson and Miss Revilla Wright.

Waistlines Vary In Sportswear For Resort Styles

Marin Women

The evolution of sportswear, originally designed for active sports-lovers only, has made it mandatory that we consider the whole subject with a fresh viewpoint.

"Active sportswear" concerns itself with the needs of personal participation in such pursuits as golf, tennis, swimming, riding, so on down the list. "Spectator sportswear" would seem to indicate only audience participation at any of these events. But such is not quite the case in the Resort collections for 1961-2. In fact, much has been made of the fact that casual clothes, or fashions distinguished by understatement, carry right on into the cocktail and evening occasions short of out-and-out formal events. The early Chanel collections had much to do with the acceptance of casually cut styles for late-day wearing, but it was natural for California designers, who have always emphasized color and line, but by-passed ornate and over-trimmed looks.

Therefore, it is well to examine up-coming spectator sportswear with a broader viewpoint, and to eliminate preconceived notions that it must be confined to grandstand and bleachers. Here are a few of the trends that will identify it as 1961-62 resort wear:

Body lines are identifiable, although the loose, easy-fit is still acceptable. Silhouettes are not constricted, but suggest a curvilinear base, upon which fabric flows freely, sometimes curving inward at the front, hanging straight from the shoulders at the back.

Never have jacketed dresses and separates been more prevalent. Jackets emerge as "sweaters" made from printed silk, lace, mohair, cashmere and orlon. They cover easy-fit overblouses that rest lightly on the hipbone, are ususally sleeveless and with high round necklines. Some sweaters are lined in the print that is used for the blouse or shirt beneath, while others are unlined, but bound in fabric to match the mated dress or separates.

Waistlines vary from the normal, widely belted to lifted to lowered, where usually a sash of matching fabric is gently looped around the hipline.

Appliance Prices May Rise In '62

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Prices of household appliances dropped slightly in 1961, continuing a 10-year decline, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

However, said the agency, several large manufacturers have announced that distributor prices for appliances will increase in the year ahead because of rising costs of materials and labor. Whether these higher prices are passed on to consumers will depend on demand.

USDA said that furniture and appliance sales declined in '61, but may increase in '62 as more new homes are built.

FACE AND FIGURE

Doctor Says Food Intake, Exercise Keys To Health

If more people would make a point of exercising daily and keeping a weather eye on their food intake, heart disease would lessen its hold on the American people, says Dr. Harry R. Mushlin, director of an insurance company health clinic.

Dr. Mushlin recommends that every individual set for himself a routine set of calisthenics, to be practiced faithfully each day.

These should be constructed to include action of every muscle of the body within its normal range of motion; they should be part of the normal morning routine; and they should not extend beyond 10 minutes. "Human nature being what it is, you'll soon find excuses to eliminate the entire routine if you attempt to go beyond the 10 minute limit," he contends.

How many times you do each individual exercise should depend on your own agility, Dr. Mushlin pointed out, but the main thing is to go through the entire cycle each day. "Never use the excuse that you're off to the ski slopes, a round of golf, or a fast set of tennis, because only as your body becomes conditioned to regular exercise can it handle the excess strain of such strenuous sports."

A basic element in the 10-minute, pre-breakfast routine, is the need for completing at least 15 deep breathing exercises. "These help keep the diaphragm stretched, thus helping assure the ability of the lungs to provide the oxygen intake necessary to keep the body running in top condition.

On the matter of diet, Dr. Mushlin emphasizes the importance of spreading recommended calorie intake—whether it be 900, 1200 or 1500 a day —over three meals.

"The body, in any particular period places a strict maximum on the amount of food it can utilize and put to work in the form of body energy. All excesses are automatically stored throughout the body in the form of sugars and fats."

Dr. Mushlin points out that while this "time concept" in dieting has long been practiced to good advantage in the treatment of diabetics, it has yet to gain the prestige it deserves in effecting normal weight reduction.

One final New Year suggestion: "Take a walk in the fresh air each day. It's good for the muscles, the lungs and for the soul, and it's an exercise in which practically everyone, even those with circulatory disease, can indulge to their "heart's content."

Females Shun Science

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Science Foundation reports that science ranks far down on the list of professions that women have entered in great numbers.

Only about four per cent of all federally-employed scientists and engineers are women. About seven per cent of a total of more than 166,000 registrants in the National Register of Scientific and Technical Personnel are women.

PLANNING A WEDDING on April 8 in Carmel are Deborah Ann Mallon of San Rafael and Thomas Arthur Aspland. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Routh Louise Mallon of San Rafael. Parents of the future bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aspland of Pittsburg. (Planert photo)

Deborah Mallon Engaged To Wed Thomas Aspland

The engagement of Deborah Ann Mallon of San Rafael and Thomas Arthur Aspland has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Ruth Louise Mallon of San Rafael.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aspland of Pittsburg.

The bride-elect, who is the sister of John Charles Mallon and Gary Edward Mallon of San Rafael, was graduated from San Rafael High School. She was a member of Les Couturiers and the Marin Ski Club. Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Lagomarsino of Daly City are her grandparents. She is employed with Irving Lundborg and Co. in San Rafael.

The future benedict was graduated from Mt. Diablo High School. He is the brother of Ethel Aspland and Jerry Alexander Aspland of Pittsburg. Mrs. Helen McDonald of Pinole is his grandmother.

The wedding will be an event of April 8 in Carmel.

Sad Fact; Feet Getting Bigger

Feet are getting bigger and so are shoes. But shoe manufacturers have expended time and money to conceal artfully the fact that the famous 2A has grown into a 7B.

So the bureau advises a "fit first" policy in selecting shoes, confident that whatever size they are will look just right.

It also advises women to play the barefoot Lucy on occasion to keep feet in good condition. Walking barefoot in sand or grass exercises the foot muscles.

Doctor Says Food Intake, Exercise Keys To Health

If more people would make a point of exercising daily and keeping a weather eye on their food intake, heart disease would lessen its hold on the American people, says Dr. Harry R. Mushlin, director of an insurance company health clinic.

Dr. Mushlin recommends that every individual set for himself a routine set of calisthenics, to be practiced faithfully each day.

These should be constructed to include action of every muscle of the body within its normal range of motion; they should be part of the normal morning routine; and they should not extend beyond 10 minutes. "Human nature being what it is, you'll soon find excuses to eliminate the entire routine if you attempt to go beyond the 10 minute limit," he contends.

How many times you do each individual exercise should depend on your own agility, Dr. Mushlin pointed out, but the main thing is to go through the entire cycle each day. "Never use the excuse that you're off to the ski slopes, a round of golf, or a fast set of tennis, because only as your body becomes conditioned to regular exercise can it handle the excess strain of such strenuous sports."

A basic element in the 10-minute, pre-breakfast routine, is the need for completing at least 15 deep breathing exercises. "These help keep the diaphragm stretched, thus helping assure the ability of the lungs to provide the oxygen intake necessary to keep the body running in top condition.

On the matter of diet, Dr. Mushlin emphasizes the importance of spreading recommended calorie intake—whether it be 900, 1200 or 1500 a day —over three meals.

"The body, in any particular period places a strict maximum on the amount of food it can utilize and put to work in the form of body energy. All excesses are automatically stored throughout the body in the form of sugars and fats."

Dr. Mushlin points out that while this "time concept" in dieting has long been practiced to good advantage in the treatment of diabetics, it has yet to gain the prestige it deserves in effecting normal weight reduction.

Mardikian Says That Faith, Hard Work Are His Recipe

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

George M. Mardikian, San Francisco restaurateur, author, and leader in a wide variety of civic and philanthropic causes, gave members of the Mill Valley Community Church club at yesterday's luncheon meeting this recipe for success.

"Take the three ingredients of faith in yourself—faith in your country—and faith in God —combine them with plenty of hard work and nothing can stop you."

Speaking on "Song of America," the title of his autobiography, Mardikian told the story of his rise from a penniless Armenian boy to a multi-millionaire who has been honored by three U.S. Presidents for his assistance to the government in conservation and betterment of food.

He was an old man at 19 when he came to this country in 1922, he said, because he had lived through five wars, had seen his people almost eliminated in a Turkish massacre and saw his father killed.

HAD FORGOTTEN

"I had forgotten what it was to smile or sing," he said.

Starting as a dishwasher in San Francisco at $12 a week, he had risen to general manager of Compton's cafeteria in four and a half months. "Nowhere but in America could this happen," he declared.

MARDIKIAN

"I knew in the first four months I was here that the strength of America lies in the fact that it is a melting pot for people from all over the world with each contributing the best from his heritage to the American way of life, said the speaker.

A deeply religious man who is very proud of his native land being the first Christian nation, Mardikian said he decided that his first job being connected with food was evidence to him of God's will that his contribution to America should be in that field.

Despite the great depression he started his first restaurant in Fresno at that time and with only $8.50 in the bank at Christmas time, so strong was his faith in himself and his adopted country that he gave $2,000 "rubber" checks as presents to his in-laws with a special one for $10,000 to his wife.

SAME CHECK

Seven years later with this same check she had saved to pay for their first vacation—a trip to Europe—he bought instead the original place where he had worked as a dishwasher and began his career as the proprietor of Omar Khayyam's.

Young people now-a-days should realize that America is still the land of opportunity, he emphasized. "The world is looking to us for leadership, and people who are looking for security and handouts can't be leaders."

Having no children themselves, Mardikian said, he and his wife credit this fact with their being "parents" to the 5,300 refugees they have helped to bring to this country.

"Our oldest child is a 99-year-old grandmother," he said. They are also proud of the son and daughter of his wife's sister, whom they have adopted.

Tam Centre Club Plans A Fiesta

A Mexican garden fiesta theme will be used for the luncheon to be given by the Philanthropic Section of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club on Wednesday at the club in Kentfield. Committee members will serve the luncheon in Mexican fiesta costumes.

Mrs. Thomas F. Cusick, chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Francis C. Allen, Roland Becsey, Donald Day, William MacKay, F. M. Morris, H. N. Mangels, Marius Righetti, P. B. McCarthy, George T. Nielson, A. C. Randig, Harold Smith and George Sweeney.

The 12:30 p.m. luncheon will be followed by bridge.

Woman Appointed To Head Technical Assistance Board

Joan Anstee of Britain was appointed resident representative for the United Nations Technical Assistance Board in Bolivia, on Dec. 15. She is first woman in U. N. history to achieve this rank. She will also serve as director of the United Nations Special Fund programs in that country.

The Special Fund is assisting Bolivia in several projects, the most recent of which is a mineral survey of the Cordillera and Altiplano (the spine and high plateau of the Andes). She will be chief coordinator for all U. N. aid programs in the country, where there are at present 35 experts at work in economic or social development. She is an alumna of Newnham College, Cambridge, where she was graduated with honors in Spanish and French.

Each Intelligence Level Needs Different Training At School

Does your school treat all pupils alike? I hope not. Children are different. Let's look at "Andy" and "Frank." They are 13 and in the eighth grade.

Andy is small. His voice is childlike. He would like to be an athlete, but the other boys walk all over him. He is clumsy with tools. He can't draw, paint or sing. But he has a good brain. His IQ is above 150. He whizzes through his studies, and gets straight A grades.

Frank is almost 6 feet tall. He weighs more than twice as much as Andy. He is a star athlete. He gets high grades in shop classes, and is good with his hands. But Frank is no scholar. He reads slowly, and is weak in math. He works hard. He is more popular than Andy. They both are good boys and should become good citizens.

If their school put Andy and Frank in the same classrooms, and gave them the same assign ments, what would happen? I'll tell you. Andy would be bored stiff. Maybe he'd do the work, and maybe not. Certainly he wouldn't exert himself. He would learn to lord it over Frank, and the other kids. Frank would fail. He would work like everything. But he would be unable to succeed. Anxiety and misery would follow. Frank might well say "To heck with it all," and stop trying. Or he might fight back, and become delinquent.

As it is, the boys attend different classes. Andy is in the "fast track." He has to work hard to succeed. Frank is in a slower track. He works hard, and he succeeds. They both are making good progress.

See why I ask about your school? There are Franks and Andys in it, too. Does your school treat them alike?

Brain Can Be An Alarm Clock

You can "set your mind" to waking up at a certain hour just like you set your alarm clock, according to Jack Arbit, Ph.D., department of psychology, Northwestern University Medical School.

Beginning in infancy and continuing throughout a person's life, he said, a number of cues are associated with various times of the day and the sleeping and waking cycles. One cue which is highly correlated with the depth of sleep is body temperature, he said.

Wakefulness appears to depend on brain centers which can be aroused not only by external means but also by the activity of other parts of the brain, he said.

"On might hypothesize, therefore, that in going to sleep a person may 'set' the number of hours he might like to sleep, and when a stimulus such as body temperature associated with this number of hours or depth of sleep occurs, there is a downward firing from the cortex (the outer layer of the brain) to the wakefulness center," he said.

Additional Privacy

For additional privacy, build a divider wall in a bedroom shared by two children. The wall also can be used for storage and decoration. Use a durable paneling, such as plastic-surfaced hardboard.

Doubling Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — College and university fund raising campaigns totaling more than $3 billion now are in progress, the American Association of Fund Raising Counsel Inc. reports. The record campaigns are in response to the challenge of doubled enrollments by 1970.

MACY'S SAN RAFAEL, 4th AND COURT, GL 6-3333;
OPEN MONDAY AND FRIDAY 9:30 TO 9:00

COMEDY IN REHEARSAL — Chuck Auerbach, Dan Norton, Peggy Greig and Helen Arntz rehearse for "Nature's Way" which the Cove Players will present at Mill Valley's American Legion Hall starting Jan. 12. The two-act comedy by Herman Wouk is about the not-so-smart set of the New York theatrical world. It will run for three successive Fridays and Saturdays.

'Nature's Way' Slated For Jan. 12 Opening

"Nature's Way," Herman Wouk's two-act comedy about the not-so-smart set of the New York theater world, is in rehearsal by the Cove Players and will open Jan. 12 at the American Legion Hall, Mill Valley, and run for three consecutive Fridays and Saturdays. Curtain is 8:30 p.m.

The play is set in the glittering penthouse apartment of Billy Turk, a successful songwriter, and his wife Maggie. The young couple's lives become complicated by various characters including a jazzy interior decorator, a fiendish income tax expert, a faddish doctor and a silly television magnate.

In the large and talented cast Chuck Auerbach plays the nervous and energetic Billy Turk. During his two years with the Cove Players he has appeared in three plays, his latest role as one of the convicts in "My Three Angels." He has also directed a workshop group, is studying art in his spare time and is an avid tennis player.

Peggy Greig plays Maggie Turk, Billy's pregnant, hiccupping, interior decorator wife. She also has appeared in previous productions, her latest being "Separate Tables." Not only a competent part-time actress, Mrs. Greig is a legal secretary and the mother of three children.

Maggie Turk's mother in the play is portrayed by Helen Arntz, a former eastener who has been active in drama from high school days through college and on into the New York little theater world. At the University of Chicago she directed the faculty group and prior to taking up residence in Belvedere was an active member of the Interplayers in San Francisco. This is her first venture into comedy.

Vivian Voles, a decadent and villainous playwright, will be played by a newcomer to the Cove Players but not a newcomer to the theatrical world. Dan Norton owned his own theatrical company, called the Woodstock Players, in Woodstock, Ill. Active in his company were Paul Newman, Geraldine Page, Betsy Palmer and Shelley Berman. He has played stock in the east and worked in over 150 plays. He has done radio and television promotion for the Monterey Jazz Festival and the San Francisco Symphony.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Here's Another Marin Firm That Sells Over A Wide Area

Another Marin-based firm that does not limit its sales within the county and has been in production since last September is "A Craft Studio," 47 De Luca Place, San Rafael. It's a partnership of Robert Dittmer and Sheldon Kaganoff of Mill Valley.

The business produces handmade stoneware — custom articles in decorative ware, planters, wall tile and tableware—working through the wholesale and architectural trade. Goods are now being distributed from Seattle to San Diego and eastward through Jerrin Designers, Burlingame.

Dittmer and Kaganoff previously conducted business in Southern California and are recent graduates from the Claremont Graduate School in Ceramics.

NATIONALLY, savings and loan associations attracted a record 8.5 billion dollars in new savings deposits during 1961. Across the country, 16.5 billion dollars were provided in mortgage funds—44 per cent of the total national volume.

And in Marin County, Marin Savings and Loan increased its assets almost 36 per cent—to a total of $24,589,200, according to Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president and manager. He said more than 12 million dollars in real estate loans were made during the year and the firm's savings went up 31 per cent.

IN SAN ANSELMO, Ross Valley Savings and Loan has elected two new members to its board of directors—William E. Beeson, executive vice president of the company, and Aldo M. Del Zotto, executive vice president of Trans Western Title Co.—to fill vacancies by the resignation of L. Earle David and A. Von Rotz.

President Dr. Earle M. Young announced the firm's assets increased by 21 per cent during the year to $17,673,110. Reserves went up more than 8 per cent, exceeding the minimum state requirements by more than 3 per cent.

MARIN COUNTY population will increase another 5 per cent during the year, according to Pacific Gas and Electric Co. estimates in its 1962 Market Outlook. This is considerably higher than the 3.5 per cent growth projected for the 47 Northern and Central California counties served by the company.

PG&E figures take the present Marin population as 160,000 and add on another 8,000 for the next 12 months. It's slightly lower than the estimated 161,289 given out by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation which bases its figures on the number of dwelling units occupied since the census 19 months ago—but it's easier to remember when you are asked.

Governor's CD Message Exposes Tragic Truth

When we received "A message from Governor Edmund G. Brown . . . Plan to Survive"—along with our 1962 automobile registration card—we thought it almost a joke.

It is based (it says) on recommendations from California Disaster Office officials. Our impression from a recent visit to California Civil Defense and Disaster headquarters was that they had pretty much discarded all their previous plans for evacuation, etc., and that they were awaiting advice from the Federal Government as to what ought to be done.

"I urge you to learn . . . your own community's plan for action," said the governor's message.

That's a laugh. Marin does have a paper plan, although nobody is quite sure at this moment just where all the papers containing the plan are. And nobody much cares, for the plan is obsolete anyhow. "We are waiting for word from the state and federal governments as to what we should do," it is said.

As we say, when we received this silly business, we almost thought it a joke.

Is not 1962 an election year? What better way to get a free plug (free as far as campaign funds go, but actually paid for by taxpayers) for the governor than to inclose a message to each of California's millions of automobile owners?

But it isn't a joke. And we believe the tragic truth is that at this moment, it represents the best our state government can do for us in the field of civil defense.

We are sure that Brown's message was NOT politically inspired. No practical politician would get caught using such a bit of nonsense as a campaign tool.

It could only be promulgated by a bumbling office holder, honestly trying to do something in an important field, but totally in a quandry as to what to do.

We'll bet half the people who might try couldn't find a CD office in Marin County. And if they did, they would get no authoritative, conclusive advice anyway.

Our advice to Governor Brown is to save OUR money (and the postman's back) until such time, if ever, our California CD office comes up with something that makes sense.

50 MILLION STUDENTS

School enrollments have increased for the 17th consecutive year in the U.S.A. A total of nearly 50 million young people are now being trained on all levels of education—from kindergarten to university.

Elementary grades account for 34,200,000 pupils; high schools, 10,800,000; and institutions of higher learning, 4,800,000.

One report put it this way "Worst of all, provisional and emergency teachers frequently must learn on the job, often at the expense of their pupils."

It can be truly called a divine profession because one good teacher benefits countless others—for time and eternity.

"Come, children, hear me; I will teach you the fear of the Lord." (Psalm 33:12)

Bless those, O Jesus, who devote themselves to the noble work of the classroom.

How One Keeps One's Head Above Water In Gay, Mad Social Swim

NEW YORK (AP) — If Elsa Maxwell wants me to fill in as a fourth at bridge with her and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor anytime in 1962, she'd better name the time and place now.

Even then it's doubtful if I can oblige. My social schedule is terribly, terribly crowded.

Isn't yours? Isn't everybody? My, I've never seen so many worthwhile things that must be observed, attended or celebrated if one is to keep one's head above water in the social swim.

My Baedeker in such matter is Chases' Calendar of Annual Events. This year it lists a record number of 1,037 special days, weeks and months to commemorate—200 more than last year.

If one celebrated them all consecutively, it would require 18 years, three months, two weeks and six days. But only the social-climbing riff-raff try to celebrate everything.

Those of us who value a real place in society must carefully pick and choose.

Perhaps you'd like to glance at my own schedule for the next six months? I'm sure the late Emily Post would find it fundamentally sound. Everyone in our set approves.

Well, I started on the first of January with international Take a Deep Breath Day, as I believe it is the duty of all of us to take a more conscientious interest in world affairs, don't you?

Right now I'm also supporting the University of Detroit's Silent Record Week. The idea: You fight noise by playing a silent record over and over.

All I have down for the rest of the month is Robert E. Lee's birthday and—oh, yes—large Economy Size Week. The latter will enable those of us at the top to encourage the masses in the virtues of thrifty buying.

IN MARCH we are concentrating on Red Cross Month—we're donating some of our best blue blood; Save Your City Week, and St. Patrick's Day.

April is a giddy time, what with Make it Yourself With Wool Month, Bike Safety Week, and Honey for Breakfast Week.

May is noteworthy for Correct Posture Week, National Tavern Month—after all Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson drank in taverns; Be Kind to Animals Week, and Self-Denial Week.

FOR JUNE our set has decided on a Spartan program and will celebrate only National Ragweed Control Month, Fresh-up Soda Bath Season, and National Humor Week.

Among the other festivities we are passing up during the first half of the year are Guitar Week, National Loudspeaker Week, National Buttermilk Bread Month, National Peanut Week, Pickle Ways for Lenten Days, and National Welded Products Month.

After all, you do have to draw the line somewhere.

Democratic Chieftan Warns Brown Of Civil Defense 'Hot Potato'

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Senator Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, the president protem of the state senate, is probably as an astute a politician as there is in California today. His years in the legislature, starting with the assembly back in 1937, have given the jolly senator a wealth of experience in lawmaking. Burns frequently shows the "know-how" which determines the future course of events.

Now, the Fresno senator has written a letter to Governor Edmund G. Brown, warning the chief executive against opening any special session of the legislature during the forthcoming budget session except on subjects of critical emergency.

Burns, as a Democrat, of course is anxious to have his own party retain its seat in the executive office, and he senses the fact that if the special session is opened up to a myriad of controversial items, the Democrats will lose a lot of prestige.

GOVERNOR BROWN has a great many requests before him from various groups throughout the state, urging special calls on many items.

Particularly, Senator Burns urged the governor not to include matters pertaining to civil defense in any special calls he might make. He told newsmen:

"If civil defense gets in a special session, everyone will have a different bill, and we'll be around here all summer working them out. And when it's all over, we won't have accomplished anything."

To the governor, Burns said:

"I would like to urge you especially to refrain from yielding to demands which may be made upon you to include civil defense and fallout shelters in a special call.

"I can foresee a great amount of controversy and very little solid legislative accomplishment under the circumstances present in a special session during an election year.

"I believe the subject matter of any action which needs to be taken can be adequately placed before the legislature by means of a line item in the budget. As a member of the state disaster council, I believe sufficient action can be taken under existing statutes to protect the people of California."

THE GOVERNOR, of course, has not as yet disclosed what, if any special items will be included in a call, and is not likely to until a few days before the session convenes in February.

At the last budget session, in 1960, many itemsw ere on special call. However, there was no gubernatorial election coming up at that time.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

San Rafael's Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting and threatened to quit the county associated chambers because of recent demand for removal of Golden Gate Bridge directors Leland S. Murphy and Matt Graham.

20 YEARS AGO

Although San Rafael's fire department will go "to any town in the county if an emergency exists" it won't become a member of the Marin County Firemen's Assn. as requested by the county grand jury, the San Rafael City Council decided.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A man, later identified as Tunis Conquy, was walking down a southern road one day when, caught in an unexpected downpour, he sought shelter in a farmhouse. The friendly folks there invited him to join them for dinner. Said the hostess, "The meat on the plate on the left comes from a North Carolina piggie; the ham on the other plate comes from a little piggie from South Carolina. Which do you prefer?"

A bulletin from a barber college discloses the fact that the hair-trimmers are busting out all over with new ideas. They now have an "M.D. Cut" for doctors, a "Hustler Cut" for dynamic advertising men, a "Broker Cut" for Wall Street big shots, and an "Economy Cut" for underpaid teachers and librarians. They are also working surreptitiously, it is rumored, on an "Unkindest Cut of All"—designed for inadequate tippers.

Beginning Of New Year Brings Forth Predictions, Resolutions

THE BEGINNING of a New Year is always a time of taking stock of one's position in life. Resolutions are made—and most of them broken by now, or this time tomorrow.

Right now, I would like to make a New Year's resolution which I feel sure that I can keep.

Now, if you think I am going to have any trouble keeping that resolution, just keep a constant vigil on the flagpole.

ALONG THE SAME lines, I would like to make some predictions for 1962.

I predict that the human race will not be destroyed by an atomic war this year. (Of course if it is, who will be around to say my prediction was wrong?)

I further predict that all the people who build fall-out shelters in their back yards will find little use for them during the coming year except as a place to get away from the summer heat or store some unwanted items in. (A few will use them for such purposes as making home brew or wine.)

I predict that life will go on much the same all over Marin County, regardless of political recalls, school shakeups and anything else that might seem to upset life hereabouts.

Also along the same lines, I predict that during the coming year some things will continue to be just talk—such as rapid transit, another bridge to Marin County, rebuilding the Northwestern Pacific railroad tunnel and putting a freeway through Novato.

IN THE COMING year I foresee that Congress will finish with the legal maneuvering to create a Point Reyes National Seashore. This will start a chain reaction which will lead to a good east-west highway in Marin County and the start of Marin County as the major tourist attraction of Northern California.

Now, if anyone doubts my predictions, just let him clip this and keep it for one year. I could miss and have everything go wrong with the world this year, but inwardly I feel like it is on a steady keel in spite of the Democrats, Republicans and P-TA.

I JUST THREW the P-TA in as a sneaky way to get around to the schools. Up in north Marin, a struggle has been going on for several years to get a recreation program for the area. It looks now like it is getting off the ground.

Just in case anyone doesn't think that it is needed, he should look at the number of schools which children have broken into over the Christmas vacation just to play basketball in the multipurpose rooms.

With that sobering thought, I would like to wish everyone the last "Happy New Year" of the season and remind them that there are only 302 shopping days until Christmas.

Addition Of More New States To U.N. Will Bring New Difficulties

WHEN THE UNITED Nations was formed some 16 years ago, no one, I think, foresaw how it would evolve. Its primary business, it was then believed, would be to keep the peace among the victors of the Second World War. It was to do this by continual conciliation, for each of the great powers had a veto and therefore force could not be used against them. As we now know, the UN has not been able to deal directly with the great world conflict between the West and the East, and the task of preventing another great war and of maintaining a measure of coexistence has been carried on outside the UN by direct diplomacy.

A very different task, which no one foresaw and planned, has fallen to the UN. It is to preside over the troubles which arise from the death agony of the old empires and the birth pains of the successor states. Without realizing its full significance, the United States took the lead in inducing the UN to carry out a large constitutional reform. The power to enforce peace was transferred from the Security Council, where each of the great powers has a veto, to the General Assembly, where each state—be it Yemen or Great Britain, has one vote. This change in the constitution of the UN was put through in 1950 during the Truman administration in order to circumvent the Soviet veto in the Security Council. At the time our friends in Western Europe and Latin America had a secure majority in the General Assembly.

ALL OF THIS happened before the world began to see the consequences of the break-up of the British, French, Dutch, Belgian, Portuguese, and Spanish empires in Asia and Africa. The successor states have been coming rapidly into the General Assembly, each of them with a vote equal to that of its former overlord. The old Western majority is drowned, and the UN has become a sounding board and the pressure instrument to complete the liquidation of the old empires. Behind the bloc of the successor states, whenever they wish to call on it for help, stands the power of the Soviet Union.

There is much doubt and anxiety in this country about what our position in the UN should be. It is not easy to define it accurately and realistically. But if it is to be done at all, we cannot let the problem be misrepresented. It is not true, for example, as some loose talkers are saying, that the United States has abdicated its sovereignty and has turned over the conduct of our foreign policy to a majority of the General Assembly.

OUR TRUE ROLE, so it seems to me, is to use our power and influence to preserve and assist the UN as the bridge between the old society of the Atlantic Community to which we belong and the new societies which are coming into being elsewhere. This is a hard role, to be the conciliator, for the human animal is much more ready to believe that he who is not an ally is an enemy.

But that, nevertheless, is the role that the United States has to play. For what is the alternative, There is none. To ignore the UN with its tumultuous General Assembly, to abstain grandly from its work, and in fact to resign from it? That may seem a wise policy in Paris. But from Washington it looks like inviting the great mass of the emerging states to regard the Soviet Union as their only true friend.

THE UN TODAY has 104 members. I am told by those who have reason to know such things that there are 25 or 30 more states which will achieve national independence and will then have to be admitted. An Assembly of 130 governments will be an awe-inspiring spectacle. It will also be a terrifying and an almost impossible institution to work with.

The friends of the UN will have to put their minds to work on the problem of how this multitude of governments can be saved from becoming an excited and explosive mob. It is a huge problem, and a solution is rapidly becoming urgent.

We are sure that Brown's message was NOT politically inspired. No practical politician would get caught using such a bit of nonsense as a campaign tool.

It could only be promulgated by a bumbling office holder, honestly trying to do something in an important field, but totally in a quandry as to what to do.

"Check with your local CD office for more complete information," the governor's message says.

We'll bet half the people who might try couldn't find a CD office in Marin County. And if they did, they would get no authoritative, conclusive advice anyway.

We are still waiting, they say, to get better information from state and federal offices.

Our advice to Governor Brown is to save OUR money (and the postman's back) until such time, if ever, our California CD office comes up with something that makes sense.

50 MILLION STUDENTS

School enrollments have increased for the 17th consecutive year in the U.S.A. A total of nearly 50 million young people are now being trained on all levels of education—from kindergarten to university.

Elementary grades account for 34,200,000 pupils; high schools, 10,800,000; and institutions of higher learning, 4,800,000.

The number of qualified teachers, however, is not keeping up with the increased enrollment of students.

One report put it this way "Worst of all, provisional and emergency teachers frequently must learn on the job, often at the expense of their pupils."

Take some constructive steps to encourage young people with high ideals and the needed ability to dedicate themselves to a teaching career.

It can be truly called a divine profession because one good teacher benefits countless others—for time and eternity.

Such a one certainly leaves the world better than he or she found it.

"Come, children, hear me; I will teach you the fear of the Lord." (Psalm 33:12)

Bless those, O Jesus, who devote themselves to the noble work of the classroom.

How One Keeps One's Head Above Water In Gay, Mad Social Swim

NEW YORK (AP) — If Elsa Maxwell wants me to fill in as a fourth at bridge with her and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor anytime in 1962, she'd better name the time and place now.

Even then it's doubtful if I can oblige. My social schedule is terribly, terribly crowded.

Isn't yours? Isn't everybody? My, I've never seen so many worthwhile things that must be observed, attended or celebrated if one is to keep one's head above water in the social swim.

My Baedeker in such matter is Chases' Calendar of Annual Events. This year it lists a record number of 1,037 special days, weeks and months to commemorate—200 more than last year.

If one celebrated them all consecutively, it would require 18 years, three months, two weeks and six days. But only the social-climbing riff-raff try to celebrate everything.

Those of us who value a real place in society must carefully pick and choose.

Perhaps you'd like to glance at my own schedule for the next six months? I'm sure the late Emily Post would find it fundamentally sound. Everyone in our set approves.

Well, I started on the first of January with international Take a Deep Breath Day, as I believe it is the duty of all of us to take a more conscientious interest in world affairs, don't you?

Right now I'm also supporting the University of Detroit's Silent Record Week. The idea: You fight noise by playing a silent record over and over.

All I have down for the rest of the month is Robert E. Lee's birthday and—oh, yes—large Economy Size Week. The latter will enable those of us at the top to encourage the masses in the virtues of thrifty buying.

IN MARCH we are concentrating on Red Cross Month—we're donating some of our best blue blood; Save Your City Week, and St. Patrick's Day.

April is a giddy time, what with Make it Yourself With Wool Month, Bike Safety Week, and Honey for Breakfast Week.

May is noteworthy for Correct Posture Week, National Tavern Month—after all Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson drank in taverns; Be Kind to Animals Week, and Self-Denial Week.

FOR JUNE our set has decided on a Spartan program and will celebrate only National Ragweed Control Month, Fresh-up Soda Bath Season, and National Humor Week.

Among the other festivities we are passing up during the first half of the year are Guitar Week, National Loudspeaker Week, National Buttermilk Bread Month, National Peanut Week, Pickle Ways for Lenten Days, and National Welded Products Month.

After all, you do have to draw the line somewhere.

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Senator Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, the president protem of the state senate, is probably as an astute a politician as there is in California today. His years in the legislature, starting with the assembly back in 1937, have given the jolly senator a wealth of experience in lawmaking. Burns frequently shows the "know-how" which determines the future course of events.

Now, the Fresno senator has written a letter to Governor Edmund G. Brown, warning the chief executive against opening any special session of the legislature during the forthcoming budget session except on subjects of critical emergency.

Burns, as a Democrat, of course is anxious to have his own party retain its seat in the executive office, and he senses the fact that if the special session is opened up to a myriad of controversial items, the Democrats will lose a lot of prestige.

GOVERNOR BROWN has a great many requests before him from various groups throughout the state, urging special calls on many items.

Particularly, Senator Burns urged the governor not to include matters pertaining to civil defense in any special calls he might make. He told newsmen:

"If civil defense gets in a special session, everyone will have a different bill, and we'll be around here all summer working them out. And when it's all over, we won't have accomplished anything."

To the governor, Burns said:

"I would like to urge you especially to refrain from yielding to demands which may be made upon you to include civil defense and fallout shelters in a special call.

"I can foresee a great amount of controversy and very little solid legislative accomplishment under the circumstances present in a special session during an election year.

"I believe the subject matter of any action which needs to be taken can be adequately placed before the legislature by means of a line item in the budget. As a member of the state disaster council, I believe sufficient action can be taken under existing statutes to protect the people of California."

THE GOVERNOR, of course, has not as yet disclosed what, if any special items will be included in a call, and is not likely to until a few days before the session convenes in February.

At the last budget session, in 1960, many itemsw ere on special call. However, there was no gubernatorial election coming up at that time.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

San Rafael's Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting and threatened to quit the county associated chambers because of recent demand for removal of Golden Gate Bridge directors Leland S. Murphy and Matt Graham.

20 YEARS AGO

Although San Rafael's fire department will go "to any town in the county if an emergency exists" it won't become a member of the Marin County Firemen's Assn. as requested by the county grand jury, the San Rafael City Council decided.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A man, later identified as Tunis Conquy, was walking down a southern road one day when, caught in an unexpected downpour, he sought shelter in a farmhouse. The friendly folks there invited him to join them for dinner. Said the hostess, "The meat on the plate on the left comes from a North Carolina piggie; the ham on the other plate comes from a little piggie from South Carolina. Which do you prefer?"

A bulletin from a barber college discloses the fact that the hair-trimmers are busting out all over with new ideas. They now have an "M.D. Cut" for doctors, a "Hustler Cut" for dynamic advertising men, a "Broker Cut" for Wall Street big shots, and an "Economy Cut" for underpaid teachers and librarians. They are also working surreptitiously, it is rumored, on an "Unkindest Cut of All"—designed for inadequate tippers.

Beginning Of New Year Brings Forth Predictions, Resolutions

THE BEGINNING of a New Year is always a time of taking stock of one's position in life. Resolutions are made—and most of them broken by now, or this time tomorrow.

Right now, I would like to make a New Year's resolution which I feel sure that I can keep.

Now, if you think I am going to have any trouble keeping that resolution, just keep a constant vigil on the flagpole.

ALONG THE SAME lines, I would like to make some predictions for 1962.

I predict that the human race will not be destroyed by an atomic war this year. (Of course if it is, who will be around to say my prediction was wrong?)

I further predict that all the people who build fall-out shelters in their back yards will find little use for them during the coming year except as a place to get away from the summer heat or store some unwanted items in. (A few will use them for such purposes as making home brew or wine.)

I predict that life will go on much the same all over Marin County, regardless of political recalls, school shakeups and anything else that might seem to upset life hereabouts.

Also along the same lines, I predict that during the coming year some things will continue to be just talk—such as rapid transit, another bridge to Marin County, rebuilding the Northwestern Pacific railroad tunnel and putting a freeway through Novato.

IN THE COMING year I foresee that Congress will finish with the legal maneuvering to create a Point Reyes National Seashore. This will start a chain reaction which will lead to a good east-west highway in Marin County and the start of Marin County as the major tourist attraction of Northern California.

Now, if anyone doubts my predictions, just let him clip this and keep it for one year. I could miss and have everything go wrong with the world this year, but inwardly I feel like it is on a steady keel in spite of the Democrats, Republicans and P-TA.

I JUST THREW the P-TA in as a sneaky way to get around to the schools. Up in north Marin, a struggle has been going on for several years to get a recreation program for the area. It looks now like it is getting off the ground.

Just in case anyone doesn't think that it is needed, he should look at the number of schools which children have broken into over the Christmas vacation just to play basketball in the multipurpose rooms.

With that sobering thought, I would like to wish everyone the last "Happy New Year" of the season and remind them that there are only 302 shopping days until Christmas.

WALTER LIPPMANN

Addition Of More New States To U.N. Will Bring New Difficulties

WHEN THE UNITED Nations was formed some 16 years ago, no one, I think, foresaw how it would evolve. Its primary business, it was then believed, would be to keep the peace among the victors of the Second World War. It was to do this by continual conciliation, for each of the great powers had a veto and therefore force could not be used against them. As we now know, the UN has not been able to deal directly with the great world conflict between the West and the East, and the task of preventing another great war and of maintaining a measure of coexistence has been carried on outside the UN by direct diplomacy.

A very different task, which no one foresaw and planned, has fallen to the UN. It is to preside over the troubles which arise from the death agony of the old empires and the birth pains of the successor states. Without realizing its full significance, the United States took the lead in inducing the UN to carry out a large constitutional reform. The power to enforce peace was transferred from the Security Council, where each of the great powers has a veto, to the General Assembly, where each state—be it Yemen or Great Britain, has one vote. This change in the constitution of the UN was put through in 1950 during the Truman administration in order to circumvent the Soviet veto in the Security Council. At the time our friends in Western Europe and Latin America had a secure majority in the General Assembly.

ALL OF THIS happened before the world began to see the consequences of the break-up of the British, French, Dutch, Belgian, Portuguese, and Spanish empires in Asia and Africa. The successor states have been coming rapidly into the General Assembly, each of them with a vote equal to that of its former overlord. The old Western majority is drowned, and the UN has become a sounding board and the pressure instrument to complete the liquidation of the old empires. Behind the bloc of the successor states, whenever they wish to call on it for help, stands the power of the Soviet Union.

There is much doubt and anxiety in this country about what our position in the UN should be. It is not easy to define it accurately and realistically. But if it is to be done at all, we cannot let the problem be misrepresented. It is not true, for example, as some loose talkers are saying, that the United States has abdicated its sovereignty and has turned over the conduct of our foreign policy to a majority of the General Assembly.

OUR TRUE ROLE, so it seems to me, is to use our power and influence to preserve and assist the UN as the bridge between the old society of the Atlantic Community to which we belong and the new societies which are coming into being elsewhere. This is a hard role, to be the conciliator, for the human animal is much more ready to believe that he who is not an ally is an enemy.

But that, nevertheless, is the role that the United States has to play. For what is the alternative, There is none. To ignore the UN with its tumultuous General Assembly, to abstain grandly from its work, and in fact to resign from it? That may seem a wise policy in Paris. But from Washington it looks like inviting the great mass of the emerging states to regard the Soviet Union as their only true friend.

THE UN TODAY has 104 members. I am told by those who have reason to know such things that there are 25 or 30 more states which will achieve national independence and will then have to be admitted. An Assembly of 130 governments will be an awe-inspiring spectacle. It will also be a terrifying and an almost impossible institution to work with.

The friends of the UN will have to put their minds to work on the problem of how this multitude of governments can be saved from becoming an excited and explosive mob. It is a huge problem, and a solution is rapidly becoming urgent.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Prompt Action Can Save You Great Deal Of Trouble

A bridge player by the name of Herrick dropped in to talk about rosebuds. "Gather them" he said. He's in favor of doing the job early, and he had a bridge hand to prove his point.

Opening lead -- ♣ Q

You win the opening club lead in dummy, get to your hand with a trump and lead a spade toward dummy. Don't look now but those rosebuds are wilting.

East takes the ace of spades and returns a trump. If you finesse, West will win and return a trump. Even if you refuse the trump finesse West will probably get in with the king of diamonds to draw dummy's last trump. You wind up losing two diamond tricks.

LEAD SPADES: Now try gathering your rosebuds earlier. Win the first trick in dummy and lead the king of spades at once.

East wins and returns a trump, but this is only the first round of trumps. You win, get to dummy with a club and get rid of a club on a high spade. Then you take the diamond finesse.

Since only one round of trumps has been drawn, West cannot stop you from ruffing a diamond in dummy. You lose only one diamond, and this assures the contract.

The point of all this rosebud business is that you can't afford to waste time with a round of trumps at the second trick. Get to work immediately on the spades and diamonds.

Actually, there's a fancy way to make the contract even if you do lead trumps at the second trick. It's a foolish line of play, but it happens to work.

Take a round of trumps and lead a spade to East's ace. Back comes a trump, and you finesses to West's queen. Back comes a club.

Cash dummy's high clubs and spades and ruff a club. Get back to dummy with the jack of hearts and lead a club. Discard the low diamond and let West win the trick. He must return a diamond to your ace-queen, giving you the contract. This known as making a contract the hard way.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner binds one spade, and the next player doubles. You hold:

♠ K Q J 6
♥ J 8 7
♦ 8 4
♣ A K 6 4

What do you say?

Answer: Redouble. You can show the magnificent spade support later. Redouble first to show that the hand "belongs" to your side.

RESOLUTION NO. 2557
RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO CITY OF SAN RAFAEL OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "SAN PEDRO SCHOOL ANNEXATION," AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL:

1. That, pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, a petition signed by owners of not less than one-fourth of the land in the hereinafter described territory, by area and by assessed value as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin, was filed with the Council of the City of San Rafael on January 2nd, 1962, requesting annexation of the hereinafter described territory to said City.

2. That the territory which the petitioners request be annexed to the City of San Rafael and which said City and its Council propose to annex, is situate in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated "SAN PEDRO SCHOOL ANNEXATION," and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the Northeasterly line of San Pedro Road, said point bearing N 55° 07' W 100.00 feet and N 34° 53' E 60.00 feet from the most Easterly corner of Lot 132, Block 10, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map of Uplands, Beautiful Villa Sites overlooking San Francisco Bay, near San Rafael, Cal.," filed November 20, 1908 in Book 3 of Maps, at Page 4, Marin County Records; thence along said Northeasterly line of San Pedro Road and along the Corporate Limit Line of the City of San Rafael N 55° 07' W 822.59 feet and S 82° 11' W 163.33 feet; thence leaving said Northeasterly line and Corporate Limit Line S 7° 49' E 60.00 feet to the most Northeasterly corner of Lot 114 as shown on said map; thence S 27° 41' W 164.85 feet and S 1° 35' E 84.75 feet to a point on the Easterly line of Hillside Avenue as shown on said map, said point bearing S 19° 02' E 37.92 feet from the most Southerly corner of said Lot 114; thence Southeasterly along the Northeasterly line of said Hillside Avenue to a point thereon which bears S 34° 53' W from the point of beginning; thence leaving said Northeasterly line of said Hillside Avenue N 34° 53' E 505 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

3. That the County Boundary Commission of Marin County, California, did in session duly assembled on Monday, October 16th, 1961, consider the proposed annexation boundaries of said "SAN PEDRO SCHOOL ANNEXATION," as above described, and as submitted to said Commission by the proponents of said annexation.

4. That if said territory is annexed it shall become part of the school district of the City of San Rafael.

5. That Monday, February 5th, 1962, at the hour of 8 o'clock, in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of San Rafael, and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of San Rafael and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the City of San Rafael. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.

6. The City Clerk of the City of San Rafael is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of San Rafael, the city to which it is proposed to annex the aforesaid territory, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

7. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

I, W. L. MORGAN, Clerk of the City of San Rafael, hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was duly and regularly introduced and adopted at a Regular meeting of the Council of said City held on Tuesday, the 2nd day of January, 1962, by the following vote, to-wit:

AYES: Councilmen Aby, Baar, Jensen.
NOES: Councilmen None.
ABSENT: Councilmen Menary and Mayor McInnis.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Prompt Action Can Save You Great Deal Of Trouble

A bridge player by the name of Herrick dropped in to talk about rosebuds. "Gather them" he said. He's in favor of doing the job early, and he had a bridge hand to prove his point.

Opening lead -- ♣ Q

You win the opening club lead in dummy, get to your hand with a trump and lead a spade toward dummy. Don't look now but those rosebuds are wilting.

East takes the ace of spades and returns a trump. If you finesse, West will win and return a trump. Even if you refuse the trump finesse West will probably get in with the king of diamonds to draw dummy's last trump. You wind up losing two diamond tricks.

LEAD SPADES: Now try gathering your rosebuds earlier. Win the first trick in dummy and lead the king of spades at once.

East wins and returns a trump, but this is only the first round of trumps. You win, get to dummy with a club and get rid of a club on a high spade. Then you take the diamond finesse.

Since only one round of trumps has been drawn, West cannot stop you from ruffing a diamond in dummy. You lose only one diamond, and this assures the contract.

The point of all this rosebud business is that you can't afford to waste time with a round of trumps at the second trick. Get to work immediately on the spades and diamonds.

Actually, there's a fancy way to make the contract even if you do lead trumps at the second trick. It's a foolish line of play, but it happens to work.

Take a round of trumps and lead a spade to East's ace. Back comes a trump, and you finesses to West's queen. Back comes a club.

Cash dummy's high clubs and spades and ruff a club. Get back to dummy with the jack of hearts and lead a club. Discard the low diamond and let West win the trick. He must return a diamond to your ace-queen, giving you the contract. This known as making a contract the hard way.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner binds one spade, and the next player doubles. You hold:

♠ K Q J 6
♥ J 8 7
♦ 8 4
♣ A K 6 4

What do you say?

Answer: Redouble. You can show the magnificent spade support later. Redouble first to show that the hand "belongs" to your side.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

RESOLUTION NO. 2557
RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO CITY OF SAN RAFAEL OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "SAN PEDRO SCHOOL ANNEXATION," AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL:

1. That, pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, a petition signed by owners of not less than one-fourth of the land in the hereinafter described territory, by area and by assessed value as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin, was filed with the Council of the City of San Rafael on January 2nd, 1962, requesting annexation of the hereinafter described territory to said City.

2. That the territory which the petitioners request be annexed to the City of San Rafael and which said City and its Council propose to annex, is situate in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated "SAN PEDRO SCHOOL ANNEXATION," and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the Northeasterly line of San Pedro Road, said point bearing N 55° 07' W 100.00 feet and N 34° 53' E 60.00 feet from the most Easterly corner of Lot 132, Block 10, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map of Uplands, Beautiful Villa Sites overlooking San Francisco Bay, near San Rafael, Cal.," filed November 20, 1908 in Book 3 of Maps, at Page 4, Marin County Records; thence along said Northeasterly line of San Pedro Road and along the Corporate Limit Line of the City of San Rafael N 55° 07' W 822.59 feet and S 82° 11' W 163.33 feet; thence leaving said Northeasterly line and Corporate Limit Line S 7° 49' E 60.00 feet to the most Northeasterly corner of Lot 114 as shown on said map; thence S 27° 41' W 164.85 feet and S 1° 35' E 84.75 feet to a point on the Easterly line of Hillside Avenue as shown on said map, said point bearing S 19° 02' E 37.92 feet from the most Southerly corner of said Lot 114; thence Southeasterly along the Northeasterly line of said Hillside Avenue to a point thereon which bears S 34° 53' W from the point of beginning; thence leaving said Northeasterly line of said Hillside Avenue N 34° 53' E 505 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

3. That the County Boundary Commission of Marin County, California, did in session duly assembled on Monday, October 16th, 1961, consider the proposed annexation boundaries of said "SAN PEDRO SCHOOL ANNEXATION," as above described, and as submitted to said Commission by the proponents of said annexation.

4. That if said territory is annexed it shall become part of the school district of the City of San Rafael.

5. That Monday, February 5th, 1962, at the hour of 8 o'clock, in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of San Rafael, and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of San Rafael and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the City of San Rafael. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.

6. The City Clerk of the City of San Rafael is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of San Rafael, the city to which it is proposed to annex the aforesaid territory, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

7. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

I, W. L. MORGAN, Clerk of the City of San Rafael, hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was duly and regularly introduced and adopted at a Regular meeting of the Council of said City held on Tuesday, the 2nd day of January, 1962, by the following vote, to-wit:

North Marin Water Directors Will Run Again

Frank Bacaglio and William Jonas, directors of the North Marin County Water District, have announced they intend to run for re-election at the biennial election March 27.

In planning for the election, directors were told that the dates open for filing were Jan. 26 through Feb. 9.

Forms for filing for the two positions can be obtained at the district office in Novato or in the county clerk's office in San Rafael, according to Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

In other business the directors approved an extension on Tamalpais Avenue south of Hill Road to serve three families.

California Pig Crop Increases

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A slight increase in the 1961 California pig crop has been reported by the State Livestock Reporting Service.

The agency said approximately 458,000 pigs were produced in the state last year. This is about 1,000 more than in 1960.

California hog producers indicated intentions to breed 40,000 sows for farrowing in the spring of 1962. This was 1,000 fewer than at the same time in 1961.

Food Handler Inspections To Be Aired

Complaint by Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber that it woulld not be fair for the county to make special charge for inspections of food handlers in cities has caused county supervisors to set consideration of the problem for next week.

A complicating factor was a call by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell for policy decision about the prevailing charge to Novato, which alone has passed such an ordinance.

The other cities have been asked to enact uniform ordinances for inspection of food handlers according to county code, stricter than state law, but they have been grumbling because of the demand that they, like Novato, pay an extra fee for the extra work.

Huber had written that his city council was unanimously of the view that there should be county inspection but that "this should not be cause of extra expense." Fusselman concurred. He said existence of a Novato contract shouldn't be a reason for charging others, indeed "a refund should be made to Novato."

"I couldn't agree more," said Supervisor Peter Behr. "If they get together and enact a uniform ordinance, the county should pick up the cost."

Though Supervisor Walter R. Castro demurred, remarking that San Rafael has its own health office, this only brought reply by Fusselman that "San Rafael is missing the boat by not getting this service."

Completes Course

Army Pvt. Richard M. Rains, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn W. Rains, 255 C Street, San Rafael, has completed the 10-week photographic laboratory operation course at the Army Signal School, Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Marin Concert Pianists Set For TV Show

Milton and Peggy Salkind, Mill Valley concert pianists, will play Saturday in the associated concert artist's preview in San Francisco and Monday night will appear on the television program "PM West" on KPIX (channel 5).

Their performance on "PM-West," which starts at 15 minutes past midnight, will be the first classical music ever presented on this program. In the taped recording they are interviewed and play three of Bizet's "Children's Games," two Brahms waltzes, a polka by Borodin, a march by Schubert and a polka by the late Robert Kurka.

Saturday's Associated Concert Artists preview starts at 2:30 p.m. at the Marine Memorial building in San Francisco.

Thief Breaks Into Sleepy Hollow Home

Contractor George J. Baker of 90 Green Valley Court returned from vacation Tuesday and found several doors broken at his home. The only items missing are the bottles of liquor, he said. Baker said the burglar probably entered through an unlocked window in the living room.

Food Handler Inspections To Be Aired

Complaint by Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber that it woulld not be fair for the county to make special charge for inspections of food handlers in cities has caused county supervisors to set consideration of the problem for next week.

A complicating factor was a call by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell for policy decision about the prevailing charge to Novato, which alone has passed such an ordinance.

The other cities have been asked to enact uniform ordinances for inspection of food handlers according to county code, stricter than state law, but they have been grumbling because of the demand that they, like Novato, pay an extra fee for the extra work.

Huber had written that his city council was unanimously of the view that there should be county inspection but that "this should not be cause of extra expense." Fusselman concurred. He said existence of a Novato contract shouldn't be a reason for charging others, indeed "a refund should be made to Novato."

"I couldn't agree more," said Supervisor Peter Behr. "If they get together and enact a uniform ordinance, the county should pick up the cost."

Though Supervisor Walter R. Castro demurred, remarking that San Rafael has its own health office, this only brought reply by Fusselman that "San Rafael is missing the boat by not getting this service."

North Marin Water Directors Will Run Again

Frank Bacaglio and William Jonas, directors of the North Marin County Water District, have announced they intend to run for re-election at the biennial election March 27.

In planning for the election, directors were told that the dates open for filing were Jan. 26 through Feb. 9.

Forms for filing for the two positions can be obtained at the district office in Novato or in the county clerk's office in San Rafael, according to Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

In other business the directors approved an extension on Tamalpais Avenue south of Hill Road to serve three families.

California Pig Crop Increases

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A slight increase in the 1961 California pig crop has been reported by the State Livestock Reporting Service.

The agency said approximately 458,000 pigs were produced in the state last year. This is about 1,000 more than in 1960.

California hog producers indicated intentions to breed 40,000 sows for farrowing in the spring of 1962. This was 1,000 fewer than at the same time in 1961.

In the taped recording they are interviewed and play three of Bizet's "Children's Games," two Brahms waltzes, a polka by Borodin, a march by Schubert and a polka by the late Robert Kurka.

Saturday's Associated Concert Artists preview starts at 2:30 p.m. at the Marine Memorial building in San Francisco.

Thief Breaks Into Sleepy Hollow Home

Contractor George J. Baker of 90 Green Valley Court returned from vacation Tuesday and found several doors broken at his home. The only items missing are the bottles of liquor, he said. Baker said the burglar probably entered through an unlocked window in the living room.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Been Doing Things Together 50 Years

The couple is Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Thompson, both 70 years of age, of 57 Ross Avenue, Apt. 9.

Thompson said the anniversary was Tuesday but with a little glint in his eye admits that he has heard rumors that there may be a surprise celebration of some kind in the family Saturday.

It was sometime in 1911 that a shy young Oakland girl, visiting her brother in Livermore, strolled down to the Western Pacific Railroad station and met the handsome young station operator. That was the first meeting of Charles Thompson and his wife-to-be, Ruth M. Harlow.

Thompson was still in the then-exalted position of railroad telegrapher when they married Jan. 2, 1912 at a Congregational church in Oakland.

As Thompson puts it, "People who like the same things just get along well together. There's not much room for differences."

"We've always done everything together. We used to hunt, fish and travel together. If you have compatibility, you are just fortunate," he said.

In 1916 Thompson joined the Southern Pacific Railroad to work as agent, operator and dispatcher for the Sacramento Division. He recalls the days when "The Hill" over the Sierras to Reno was mainly single track. He was working when the first of the great articulated steam locomotives began work on the Sierra grade.

In 1929, he left the railroad and became a repeaterman for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. He continued with the company until retiring in 1956.

The couple first saw Marin County on a drive from Sacramento around 1937. They were so impressed he asked for a transfer to the San Francisco office. He shortly was assigned there.

Now they live in an apartment off the main street of San Anselmo, almost in the shade of the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

In recent years Mrs. Thompson has had some of her climbing and hiking eliminated due to high blood pressure, but the couple still travels by auto frequently on trips that generally stay within the Western states.

Mrs. Thompson is proud of the fact she is a third cousin of Edgar Allen Poe and a first cousin to the mother of the famous actress, Jean Harlow.

Thompson is a member of Marin Lodge 192 F&AM of San Rafael.

They have two children, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Their son is Robert G. Thompson of Petaluma and their daughter, Mrs. (Cora) E. P. Bur of Fairfax.

Household Air Purifiers Held Not Effective

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Household air purifiers sold in retail stores are not effective in preventing or treating respiratory ailments, sinus trouble or allergies, the Food and Drug Administration said this week.

The FDA made the statement in announcing the results of a court action involving the nationally promoted Puritron line of such devices. A federal court decree filed here drastically limits the health benefits which advertisers may claim for household air purifiers, the FDA said.

The case involved Puritron devices seized in a Washington, D.C., retail store in October, 1959, on charges of false labeling and misleading therapeutic claims. Both contained small air filters with electric fans to circulate air, and ultra-violet lamps capable of producing a small amount of ozone gas, the FDA said.

"Such devices have no significant effect in ridding the air of contaminants and dust and will afford no relief to sufferers of asthma, hay fever, allergies and sinus conditions," the FDA said.

The manufacturer of the Puritron device, Michael Electric Co., Inc., New Haven, Conn., consented to the decree and payment of court costs and fees involved in two years of pre-trial litigation.

In parts of northern New England and eastern Canada the world's increasingly warmer weather has killed birch trees and spruce and balsam have suffered.

Innocent Plea In Dope Case

Mrs. Marie Frances Hall, 47, of Hayward, whose convict son was stabbed to death in prison last month, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge that she had conspired to smuggle dope into San Quentin last year.

Her son, Thomas Devers, 24, was one of six convicts indicted on similar charges. Devers was one of four convicts killed in a series of stabbings at the prison just before Christmas.

The judge set Mrs. Hall's trial date for Jan. 23 to 26.

Mrs. Hall's attorney S. Bruce Scidmore of Oakland, indicated he wants to separate the trial of Mrs. Hall from that of the other convicts and Mrs. Pauline Herrera of Los Angeles.

Father's Club To Hear Shelter Talk

"Community Dual-Purpose Shelters" will be discussed by Livermore City Manager William Parness before an 8 p.m. Jan. 10 meeting of the San Pedro School Dads' Club at the San Pedro School in San Rafael.

County, city, education board and school district officials have been invited and a letter of invitation has been sent to each of 300 families of pupils at San Pedro School.

Chairman Howard Barnes said the club hopes to inform and develop ideas among officials and residents, believing they should lead toward a coordinated shelter program.

Parness was invited because the City of Livermore has received national recognition for its work in community dual-purpose shelters. In this Parness has been a leader.

He is expected to answer questions and advise as to means of developing a local program.

Housing Authority

The Marin County Housing Authority commission will meet at 1:30 p.m. and the redevelopment agency commission at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Marin City. Neither commission met at their normal meeting date, last Monday, because of the holiday.
